

Eagles Capture Season's Finale

Coach Marv Miller's O'Neill high Eagles finished the 1951 grid season by overwhelming the Atkinson high Balers, age-old rivals, 14-6.

It was the finale for both clubs. Atkinson scored first when O'Neill fumbled and the Balers recovered. In about 7 plays the visitors had marched half the length of the field and tallied with Fullback Osborne plunging for the TD. Osborne's try for extra point failed.

In the second period, Quarterback Davey Eby connected with Halfback Don Calkins and an aerial that covered 40 yards and tied the game. Calkins skirted end for the extra point, putting O'Neill in front, 7-6, at intermission.

Only score in the second half came when Halfback Don Godel was sprung off tackle for 40 yards. He swept end for the extra point.

Line play of Russell Miner, guard, and the linebacking of Big Ed Tomlinson, fullback, was a defensive feature.

Broncs Fail to Win Grid Game

STUART — The Stuart high football team went to Bassett Friday afternoon, November 9, to play the last game of the season. The Broncos have been on the losing side in every game played this fall.

The basketball schedule given by Coach Ted Schiessler follows:

December 5—Ainsworth, here; 10—Atkinson, there; 14—Valentine, there; 20—Wood Lake, there; January 3—Springview, here; 8—Bassett, here; 10—Long Pine, there; 15—Page, here; 17—Springview, there; 21—25—Holt county tournament; 29—St. Joe (Atkinson), there; 31—Long Pine, here. February 4-8—North central tournament; 12—O'Neill, there; 15—St. Joe, here; 19—Bassett, there; 22—Atkinson, here.

Last week in February, district tournament.

Huskers Finally Triumph, 34-27

At least 2 Holt countyans were in the stands Saturday at Ames, Ia., when Nebraska's Cornhuskers managed their first triumph of the season, a 34-27 victory over Iowa State.

Holt's representatives were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Grady, who were spending the weekend at Ft. Dodge and buzzed 60 additional miles to watch the Huskers pile up 4 touchdowns in an amazing 12½ minutes of the 3d period.

Prof. Bill Glassford's kids exploded for the first time this season after trailing 7-21 at intermission.

A relatively small delegation of Nebraskans followed the luckless Huskers to Ames. Certainly the Gradys represented Holt's smallest representation at a Nebraska game in many weeks.

Rattlesnakes

Top Bowling Loop

On Thursday, November 8, the Rattlesnakes took on the Country club team, producing an all-around victory for the Rattlesnakes. They won all 3 games to get all 4 points.

Leading the Rattlers were Jim Sheets and Capt. Charles Porter, who had the high score of the evening. For the Country club, it was Jim Schneider and Nick Ramold in the lead.

On Monday, November 12, the Country club again bowled, this time against a strong Sportsmen team, the Country club coming out on the short end. Nick Ramold and Jim Schneider tried their best to hand a defeat to the Sportsmen.

Leading the Sportsmen were Bob Asher and Rich Hovey, who battled out for the week's high score, with Asher making 198.

Later on Monday the M&M cafe took the Council Oak to a full rout, winning all 4 points. Leading the M&M were Capt. Harold Humrich, followed one pin behind by Lloyd Godel.

For the Council Oak it was once again Capt. Archie Ashby.

The week's standings are posted every night after the last game of the week in the bowling alley. These give all individual and team honors.

Griswold Urges

Legion Leadership—

Dwight Griswold has urged the American Legion to take the leadership in demanding "that the financial structure of the United States be saved and our great economic system maintained."

Griswold, former Nebraska governor who is again being mentioned as a possible republican candidate for the office, spoke at a belated Armistice day meeting of Omaha Legion post No. 1 Tuesday night.

It was Griswold's first spotlighted appearance since his name began cropping up in reports concerning the race for the Nebraska U.S. senate seat now held by Hugh Butler. The address bristled with criticism of the national democratic administration.

He described government spending as "financial jiggerbugging" and charged that some of it "is due to a plain simple attempt to purchase votes."

High Protein Not Essential—

In supplementing cattle this time of year, it is well to consider the quality of protein, even more so than the amount, according to R. G. Shelhamer, of Shelhamer Foods.

Cotton seed cake, one of the earliest discovered supplemental proteins, ran high in protein, usually 40 per cent and upward.

"Consequently we still find stockmen today insist upon a high level of protein. However, this is not necessary, considering that only 18 per cent is required, and not all of that in the supplement, as other roughages, hay and even grain are fed with the supplement usually supplying from 3 to 8 per cent of this protein requirement," he added.

"A good 15 to 18 per cent protein supplement should be considered, especially since proteins have become quite high. It is well to consider that a larger percentage of protein is wasted when the required level is exceeded. In getting quality and quantity into your supplemental protein, it is well to remember that a single protein factor will give you only one-third of the amino acid required in the animal makeup. See that your supplement carries a complex protein content with at least 3 sources of protein. Best known of these protein factors are cotton seed meal, soya bean meal, and linseed meal. Fifteen per cent of protein with a combination of all 3 of these proteins is much better than 40 or even 45 per cent in a single protein from only one of these sources.

"Remember, it is important that you give the animal the amount required and that they will assimilate, any more than this is unnecessary. If your home grown feeds have a high protein content you can supplement with a good 15 to 18 per cent protein and still have ample protein if your roughage, hay or other feeds contains only from 2 to 5 per cent.

"In feeding a single protein factor, the need for supplementing the necessary vitamins and minerals in proper balance. Space must be left in the diet to include these all important materials. When making an outlay of money for a supplement, remember all of these materials are important and absolutely necessary. Remember that your protein does not have to be 40 per cent or 30 per cent or even 20 per cent, but it is important that it is complex and from 3 or more sources. This will make your supplement considerably cheaper and better and

Revised Highway Maps Are Available —

State Engineer Harold L. Altken announced Tuesday that the state highway department has a new official map of Nebraska highways available for distribution. The department has been waiting for delivery of the maps from the printer for almost 4 months.

The state engineer said that the lines on the map show only relocations, additions to the highway system and changes from gravel to a higher type of surfacing

Motorcar Strikes Rear of Train

The Burlington railroad's roadmaster at Ferry Junction, W. V., Torker, about 60, was taken to O'Neill hospital late Monday following an unusual accident at Royal.

Torker, who lives at South Sioux City, was enroute to O'Neill aboard a small motor car. At the edge of Royal his machine plowed into the rear of an O'Neill-bound freight train. Mr. Torker explained the sun blinded him and he did not see the train.

Andy Davis, brakeman, happened to look behind as the freight began to pull out of Royal and saw Torker lying beside the track. He had small cuts and bruises and was suffering from shock.

The injured man was placed aboard the train, given first aid at Orchard and taken later to the hospital here. He was released the following day.
