Mrs. Axtell Hears Recorded Worship

STUART—Mrs. Alice Axtell celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary Sunday, November 25. A number of her friends called and had a party for her on Saturday afternoon.

Sunday morning a tape recording was made of the worship service at the Community church. The congregation sang "Happy Birthday" and repeated a birthday wish. The transcription was played to her at her home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Axtell was born in New York, came to the midwest as a young girl when doctors recommended a change of climate in behalf of her health. After living 15 years in central Iowa, she and her husband, the late Joseph Axtell, homesteaded in Holt and Keya Paha counties. He died in 1911. They had a daughter, Miss Pearl, with whom Mrs. Axtell resides in Stuart.

Hospital Building In State Encouraging

LINCOLN—Highways were back in the headlines in Nebraska this week.

State Engineer Harold Aitken, who is working overtime on a program to bolster public confidence in the highway department, told the Kearney chamber of commerce that the state is spending about $700 a mile this year for maintenance costs alone.

"It would be cheaper in the long run to reconstruct old highways than to maintain them year after year," he said. "But funds for construction are available only after provision has been made for maintenance, since the department must keep all routes serviceable."

As part of his plan to combat criticism leveled at his department, the youthful engineer is planning a series of district meetings with highway department maintenance employees. He is hopeful the workers can do a better job if they understand their relationship to the department's overall problems.

The lack of funds, Aitken described will keep Nebraska from matching the $8,050,146, which represents the state's share of the half-billion dollar federal aid program for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Aitken said about $800,000 in this year's federal funds for secondary roads has not yet been matched.

The Nebraska total breaks down this way:

Federal aid highways (major roads) $4,294,741; secondary, or feeder roads, $3,045,380; urban highways, $10,025.

Iowa will receive a total of $10,745,167; South Dakota gets $6,152,188 and Missouri is slated for $1,900,098.

Bright Spot—

One of the most encouraging reports to come out of the capitol in a long while was published last week by the state health department's hospital division.

It shows that 20 new hospitals have been built in the state since World War II. In addition, hospitals are now under construction in 15 cities and institutions in 13 other communities have added new wings since 1945.

Here are the towns where new hospitals have been built:

Albion, Bridgeport, Chappell, Crawford, Crete, Gothenburg, Grant, Henderson, Kimball, Newman Grove, Norfolk, Oakland, Omaha, Rushville, Scottsbluff, Seward, Tilden, Wahoo, Wakefield and West Point.

Towns which have hospitals now under construction:

ATKINSON, Burwell, Callaway, Cozad, CREIGHTON, Gordon, Lewellen, Franklin, Pawnee City, Sargent, SPALDING and Syracuse.

Aid Rolls—

Mrs. Mary Prince, chairman of the board of control which supervises the state assistance program, is on record favoring the opening of aid rolls to public inspection. The federal government has already given the states the green light to unwrap the rolls and it's expected to be one of the first things the 1953 Nebraska legislature does.

Now Mrs. Prince has come up with the suggestion that if the assistance recipients' names are made public, why not also open up the list of farmers, veterans and others who receive government payments. Tom Dredla, of Crete, a board of control member, agrees with the idea. "I've always felt a lot of people getting all kinds of government checks wouldn't be getting them if the public knew it," he said.

Million Dollar Mistake

The "mistake" of the 1947 legislature in passing the unconstitutional law providing for automatic renewals of school land leases has meant more than a million dollars for the school land court decision requiring the selling of leases at auction.

Henry Bartling, secretary of the board of educational lands and funds, estimates the total will go over $3,000,000 before the sales are cleaned up next May. That figure would appear pretty low in view of the fact that the million dollars came from 425 sales, leaving 2,300 leases to dispose of.

Last week Gov. Val Peterson ordered the salesmen for the state board of educational lands and funds to cease intimidating buyers at the lease auctions with the threat that low bids "won't be accepted."

It was O'Neill's State Sen. Frank Nelson who first threw light on the so-called "threats."

Peterson, however, didn't order the line stricken from the sales talk until after Judge James C. Quigley, of Valentine, state demonstrator wheel, appeared before the board and cited such "threats" in Cherry county auctions.

Politics—

Politicians all over Nebraska have their eyes on the Third congressional district where next Tuesday voters will go to the polls to ballot on a successor to the late Rep. Karl Stefan.

Both Republican R. D. "Bob" Harrison, of Norfolk, and Democrat Carl Olson, Fremont mayor, are relative newcomers to Cornhusker politics and the professionals are watching closely for signs that might point to a trend in next year's general election.

Harrison, and the GOP have been hammering hard that a vote for Olson is a vote for Trumanism while Olson has been working just as hard to establish himself as an "independent Democrat."

Drainage Meet Today at Stuart

A meeting to explain more fully the possibilities of drainage in Holt, Rock and Brown counties will be held in the city auditorium at Stuart today (Thursday).

Mr. Sherrer, of the water conservation division and Mr. Quackenbush, of the engineering division of the soil conservation division, have spent a portion of the week prior to the meeting looking over the drainage needs and established drainage systems of the 3 counties. At the meeting they will probably discuss the needs and limitations of drainage and ways and means of getting the job done.
