Riverside Club Reorganizes

The Riverside Community 4-H club met at John Vitt's on Sunday, December 2, to reorganize for the new year. There are 29 members enrolled for this year of club work.

Officers and leaders were elected as follows:

Ramona Schneider, president; Mary Frances Vitt, vice-president; Bridget Boyle, secretary; Patrick Boyle, treasurer; Mary Agnes Boyle, news reporter; Charline Boyle, song leader; Michael Boyle, recreation leader; Mrs. John Vitt, leader, and Catherine Boyle, assistant leader.

Names were exchanged and plans were made for a Christmas party and gift exchange to be held at Inman.

A committee was appointed to fill out the year book. They are John Vitt, Dick Boyle, Dolores Boyle, Tom Schneider and Matthew Beha.

After the elections, Edward Boyle presented each of the members with a 4-H emblem that he brought back from Chicago, Ill. At the next meeting, Edward will give a report of the congress.

After the meeting a lunch of sandwiches, coffee and kool-ade was served by Mrs. Vitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle entertained the club at a card party on Friday, November 30. Lunch was served at midnight. — By Mary Agnes Boyle, news reporter.

Klinetobe Reports to USS Coucal

PAGE—Warren W. Klinetobe, navy seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Klinetobe, of Page, recently reported for duty aboard the submarine rescue vessel USS Coucal, with the Pacific fleet.

Klinetobe, a former student of Ewing high school, joined the navy, in June, 1951, and received his naval training at San Diego.

Prairie Land Talk—

Late Sen. Wherry Most Outstanding Nebraskan in His Generation

By ROMAINE SAUNDER

LINCOLN—During the first week in December one of Nebraska's greatest was laid away to join the long muster roll of eternity.

Three days later a strange character of the genus homo in a Lincoln suburb was taken to Kansas and consigned to mother earth.

Senator Kenneth Wherry was the most outstanding Nebraskan of this generation, made so by reason of his position in the United States senate and the further reason that he had remarkable gifts in personality, vigorous mind and untiring energy.

The strange character who at the age of 79 came to the end of the trail perhaps had abilities equal to any man, college and university degrees that set him above the crowd, and yet he was a city street sweeper. With his brush and push cart he was seen day-by-day, humped and old, dirty and unkempt, going about the streets gathering the dirt and rubbish into heaps for street cleaning trucks to pick up. He had not always been so and his educated ability was once in demand. Then came that devouring first world war into which this man was drawn and came out a victim of gas attacks—a living wreck no longer able to move among men as the equal of any.

But maybe street sweeping is also necessary.

Ten years ago tonight as I write, Tom Baker down by Amlika came to our home to tell us that Pearl Harbor had been bombed by the Japs and the story was coming in by radio. He invited Mrs. Saunders and me to come with him and hear it. Having a son in coast guard service in Honolulu at that time, we went with Mr. Baker and spent the evening at the old Riley Bros. ranch while the chilling story came in over the air. And then President Roosevelt took over to tell the country we were in war with Nippon. We heard nothing from our son for some weeks but finally a letter came through that he was OK on active duty but had one close call when bullets landed in his bunk. That night touched off the blood letting that ran a crimson stream across the earth. The Japs were brought to their knees but much of our military establishment is still there. And now comes a call to draft 55,000 more young Americans to share in the blood letting. The history of the race is written in human blood and beat out on the anvil of envy and hatred. Must envy and hatred and butchery live forever?

Parents are charged with being responsible for the juvenile delinquency that is worrying the public. And they can well take it to heart. In too many cases when kids become smart alecks and turn to evil ways, in place of correcting them and seeking to "train up the child in the way he should go" they take the opposite course which eventually leads to criminal acts on the part of their offspring.

Ten editors have come up with what they think has been the biggest scientific news of the year. Opinions vary from omic fighting machines to discovery of new things for healing the ills of mankind. Such terms asheas that most of us are unfamiliar with are used by the editor with impunity: Steroid, honone, cortisone, antigens, syntheses and a lot of others. It has als been divulged that mother's mlk can lick the viruses of encephalitis and yellow fever. Let's ell that the biggest news. And along with that the year has brought a remarkable demonstration hat the milk of human kindness has flowed in abundance. The affeting and loss of victims of Kansas and Missouri floods so appealed to our people on prairie and elsewhere that there has been generous outpouring to alleviate the distress. Neighbors, too, have come to the help of some afflicted or unfortunate ones among them. I wonder if this spirit of giving a lift does not transcend the discoveries of science and all other inventions.

With an air of opulence we used to hand the fair waitress a two-bit piece, now handing out a dollar for a plate of potatoes and canned corn the girl that serves the tables has to make out some way on what the niggardly boss pays her.

The clergy have us trained so we go to church to say our prayers—if we are the praying kind. There was a Man 2,000 years ago who went up and down the dusty roads healing the sick, restoring sight to the blind and raising to life the dead who drew a lesson from those robed ecclesiastics who gathered in the market places and temple court to pray by saying . . . "When thou prayest enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

What holds the small town down to the one-horse status more than anything else is the local enmity that exists among rival factions and individuals. Two gents in business on the same street are not only not on speaking terms but do all they can to injure the other, and each has a following, and sisters in lodges and churches wave the red flag at each other.

It has been the custom in Yankeeeland to sort of regard the tent of 70 or more as pretty much of a hasbeen. Not so with the honored American Medical association. To this group of distinguished citizens an 84-year-old Indiana physician who has been practicing medicine since 1903 is the notable family doctor of the year.

The 3d verse of the 7th chapter of the gospel of Matthew is recommended to the consideration of politicians down in Washington: "And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?"

Braille, the writing of the blind, is now in 85 languages and is the means of reading for 7 million sightless people of the world. A publishing house in Lincoln turns out quantities of reading matter in braille for the blind all over the country.

Out of the lowly corn cob a 4-million dollar plant down at Omaha is extracting furfural at a fraction of the $1.50 an ounce once paid for the imported stuff.

Quoting a newspaper headline, "Truman's Administration Made History," a wag adds "So did Jesse James".

Lynch Sailor on Colorful Ship

LYNCH—A Lynch sailor who has been in service little more than a year already is a hardened war veteran, having made a good accounting of himself thus far in the Korean war. He is MMFN Berry L. Baker, son of Mrs. Lillian Baker, of Lynch.

He enlisted in the navy in August, 1950. He went through boot camp at San Diego, Calif. In November he was sent to the Great Lakes naval training center for more schooling.

In June, 1951, he sailed for Korean waters as a member of the crew on the destroyer USS Kidd. This destroyer participated in numerous campaigns in the Pacific during World War II and was recommissioned for the Korean war.

Since arriving in the Korean war area, the Kidd has done convoy duty with each task force there on all sides of Korea and from Japan to Hong Kong, China, and over to Okinawa.

Barry is a member of the ship's landing force which has taken part in a landing. Ship personnel have gone inland to knock out a red radio station. The ship does submarine duty when on convoy and does coastal and island bombardment.

Although he has seen the ships of other Lynch boys in his vicinity, he has been unable to get together with any of his friends.

Barry's duties are in the engine rooms. He is due back in the U. S. some time in February.

Barry is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Baker, of Lynch, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ashby, of O'Neill.

His address is: Barry L. Baker, MMFA, USS Kidd, (DD661), C/o Fleet PO., San Francisco, Calif.

Bert Fink, Wife Plan Open-House

PAGE—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fink will hold an open-house on Sunday afternoon, December 16, during the observance of their 40th wedding anniversary.

They will receive their relatives and friends between 2 and 5 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fink, east of Ewing.

The Finks request no gifts.

Weather Restricts Stock Receipts

There were around 600 head of hogs on Thursday's market at the O'Neill Livestock Market.

Top butchers were bringing from $17.10 to $17.40; sows were ranging from $16.75 to $17.25. The receipts were noticeably lower, chiefly because of the bad weather and unfavorable road conditions. The supply was less than half compared to the previous week.

There were about 400 cattle sold. The market was a little better. Yearling steers were bringing 31c to 33c; there were some pretty good 2-year-old cattle selling at 31½c; the good steer calves were selling from 37½c on down to 35c; butcher cows were moving up to $25.00; canners were being quoted from $21.00 to $23.00; and canner cows sold on down to 17c.

Colorado Hog Cholera Vaccine Is Successfully Immunizing Hogs Throughout Nebraska!

THE sale and use of Colorado Hog Cholera Vaccine is not prohibited in the state of Nebraska.

It should not be confused with any other recently developed product in this field.

This "one shot", non-virulent method of preventing cholera was developed by government veterinarians. It is made under government supervision.

With Colorado Vaccine there is no contamination. No vial mixing. Safe. Dependable. Economical. Immunity persists at least one year.

Reports of four years farm use in Nebraska show universal satisfaction. Fresh stocks are available from local dealers in most towns throughout Nebraska.

Free illustrated booklet gives full information. Send for your copy today and learn why more than two million swine have already been immunized by this modern vaccine method.
