

Driver of Car Killing Lad Faces Charges

Charges of "motor vehicle homicide" were filed in Antelope county court December 6 against Allan Kennedy, the man whose car struck and killed Paul W. Jenkins on highway 53 west of Elgin September 10.

The charges were filed by Antelope County Attorney Ralph S. Kryger and the complaint in county court alleges that Mr. Kennedy, who lives at the "Four Corners" 2 1/4 miles west of Elgin, was under the influence of alcohol and was driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident.

Vehicle homicide, a lesser offense than manslaughter, is contended to occur when a driver is engaged in the unlawful operation of a vehicle and, without malice, causes a death. Conviction carries a fine not to exceed $500 and possible imprisonment. No dates have been set for hearing the case.

Ten-year-old Paul Jenkins, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jenkins, was killed just after he left a car driven by Charles Fuller, of Elgin, and was walking to the family's mail box 9 miles west of Elgin. Mr. Fuller was taking the Jenkins lad and 2 others home from school when the accident occurred.
