A Small Can of Paint Can Make Big Difference in Your House

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Spring began officially last week and if you aren't thinking in terms of new looks in the house or a new look in the line of clothes, it's time you did.

Maybe you can't do much, or have much, but lady a can of paint, even a little one, can make more difference in a house than anything you can think of.

A can of quick enamel can do up a whatnot, some chairs, the children's toys or what have you in double quick time and for very few pennies. Let not the spring come without a bit of furnishing, it will give your heart a lift . . . and if it's plastic curtains for the kitchen, it won't put much of a dent in your pocket-book.

Sometimes an old iron bed can be made to look neat and attractive with a coat of enamel in a color to harmonize with the furnishings of the room.

The finishing or refinishing of accessories or occasional articles for your house is fun. It's a real adventure. Often you can buy unfinished furniture already cut, you put it together yourself and finish it. You can brighten a room by using contrasting colors. There's where your originality comes in.

You can even refinish such things as waste baskets, lamp bases, bookends, and flower pots. Give a thought to brightening up the kitchen some way while you're at it.

If you're going to wax woodwork, be sure you use the right finish. One finish is secured by varnishing woodwork and when dry, applying a coat of wax and rubbing it to a polish. In this case, the wax is used as a polish. The other way is to stain and fill the wood and apply the wax without any preliminary coat. This is a real wax finish because the wax is both the wearing and the finishing coat.

Everybody Feels Like Springy Dishes—

A "Frontier Reader" from Atkinson wins our three-months' subscription today.

Dear Blanche:

Spring is here, after the long winter and everybody feels like eating springy dishes. In the garden new asparagus will be popping up in a few weeks and baby lettuce and green onions, before we know it. And then will come those luscious strawberries. So I am sending you some recipes for springtime!

ASPARAGUS

Wash asparagus thoroughly, snap off tough stalk ends, tie it in small bunches and stand bunches upright in a deep kettle or the bottom of a double boiler. Pour boiling water up to within 1 inch of the tender tips. Add salt and cook for about 15 minutes or until tender. (The deep top of the double boiler or another kettle makes a good cover). Drain and serve with hot melted butter and lemon. Or brown some butter, fry some bread crumbs in it and pour over asparagus. Or pour over it a cream sauce into which you have put some chopped hard boiled eggs.

BABY LETTUCE WITH SPRING DRESSING

Wash, dry well and chill a big bowl of young lettuce. Toss it well in this dressing Hard boil 3 eggs, slice whites and sprinkle over lettuce. Mash the yolks in a bowl, add salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon powdered mustard and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Mix well, then add 8 tablespoons salad oil and 1 teaspoon chopped chives or green onion (leaves and bulb).

GREEN ONIONS IN SOUR CREAM

Trim young green onions to just where the dark green leaves begin. Drop in boiling water and simmer gently until tender but not at all mushy. Drain and lay in a buttered baking dish. Pour over them just enough sauerkraut to cover. Sprinkle buttered crumbs on top and put into a hot oven for 10 minutes.

STRAWBERRY PIE
Mix 1/2 cups crushed strawberries, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Let stand. Soak 2 tablespoons of gelatin in 1/3 cup of water. Beat 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup of milk and 1/2 cup of water and cook in a double boiler until thick and creamy. Remove from fire and add gelatin, cool. When ready to set beat frothy, fold in strawberry mixture and add 1 cup of whipped cream. Pour into a baked crust or graham cracker pie shell. Chill. Serve with whipped cream.

SAYS SANDHILL SAL

There are now a million more women than men in the United States. God must love the women, or as Lincoln said, why has he made more of them? If this keeps up, things will come to a fine kettle of fish. But, of course, there are still plenty of suckers around.

Puns are fun. It's fun to pun. Spice your conversation with puns and you'll have a better day . . . even the corny ones bring a smile.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tomjack received a telephone call from their son, Reed, who has been at sea for four years. He is now being transferred to Portland, Ore., and will remain on shore duty for some time.
