Dakota Gal Learns There's Something More Important Than Schedules

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

This is the time of year when potatoes get to tasting not so good. Scrub them well and cook a batch in their jackets for extra flavor. Serve them hot, riced, the jackets stay in the ricer. Peel jackets that are left and keep them refrigerated. You can use them for fries with bacon grease, in hash, in casseroles with cheese sauce, and for potato salad.

Asparagus is timely this season of the year, have you ever tried serving it with a lemon sauce? This recipe serves eight, so if your family is small and you don't like left overs, you may want to cut it in two.

ASPARAGUS
One-fourth cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 2 cups milk, 2 egg yolks, beaten, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 pounds asparagus, cooked, toast.

Make a white sauce with butter, flour and milk. Add egg yolks, lemon juice and seasoning. Arrange asparagus on toast and pour sauce over it.

All of us are usually looking for new salads. If you haven't tried this salad variation, perhaps you would like it, too. It's called CARROT PINEAPPLE TOSS. It calls for 1 cup shredded raw carrot, 1 cup well drained crushed pineapple, 2 cups shredded cabbage and 1/3 cup French dressing. Mix all ingredients together. Serve in lettuce cups or in other salad greens. Serves five.

South Dakota Gal Wins Prize Subscription
Dear Blanche:

You need letters? I'll try to write one and see if I can win a subscription. So much is said about schedules, so I'll tell of my experience. In my teaching work I always kept a rigid daily schedule. I always felt that one class was as important as another, one child as important as another and one grade as important as another. It worked out wonderfully. I enjoyed my work immensely and had grand success.

When I left school teaching for homemaking for a time, I made myself discontented because daily I kept failing in keeping up my schedule of work. I was always behind. Happy me! When I made the adjustment and learned there was something more important than schedules.

I keep a weekly list of work that I wish accomplished. But if Friend Husband comes in and says, "I'm going to drive to Oscar's, don't you want to come along?" I'm always ready to go, schedule or no schedule, I go along.

Furthermore, I've learned not to stew if all my work doesn't get done today. Happiness is what counts!

I'm sending several recipes, favorites of Friend husband.

A GOOD OLE STEW
Slice 8 frankfurters and brown in a fry pan. Add half a cup of chopped onion and brown slightly. Add 2 cups of any kind of cooked beans, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt. If desired, add 1/2 teaspoon chili powder. Add 3 cups water and boil gently for 10 minutes. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Serve hot.

POTATO PANCAKES
Peel 6 medium potatoes. Grate and drain well. Make a point of grating them as quickly as you can after peeling. Speed counts. Quickly stir in 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder. Stir in 2 eggs beaten very light. Heat enough fat in a fry pan to make a good layer of fat. Don't have to much but more than just grease the pan. Drop the potato mixture by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry on both sides until crisp and golden brown, turning only once to keep them light. Keep first ones in warm oven while the rest are being baked. These are good and men like them.

ONE CRUST CHERRY PIE
Bake crust first. Then empty drained cherries from a number 2 can into crust. Heat juice and thicken with 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 egg, 1/2 cup sugar (amount depends on brand of cherries). Beat in 2 tablespoons sweet cream. Pour on cherries in pie crust. Chill. Serve with whipped cream.

SANDHILL SAL SAYS

It takes a heap of cleaning in a house to keep it home like. Some people live as though they felt the Joneses were trying to keep up with them. A good home maker is proud of trying to save pennies. Thrift is a worthy component of a good wife.
