Farrier Sisters
Wed Sunday in Double-Rite

CHAMBERS—The Methodist church was the scene of a pretty double-wedding at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 25, when the Misses Ardeth Rae and Norma Jeanne Farrier, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hylas R. Farrier, of Chambers, were united in the bonds of wedlock in a double ceremony.

Ardeth became the bride of Daryl Wedgewood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wedgewood, of Alma, and Jeanne, the bride of Lyle Clemens, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Clemens, of Neligh.

The wedding party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Elwyn Robertson and took their places before an altar decorated with bridal wreath, tulips and candelabra.

Ardeth entered on the arm of her father and Jeanne was escorted by her brother, Harold.

Rev. L. R. Hansberry, pastor of the church, read the marriage lines.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Kay Eisenhauer, soloist, sang, "I Love You" and "I Love You Truly." After the vows were spoken, she sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Elwyn Robertson played the accompaniment on the organ.

The brides, given in marriage by their father, appeared in identical gowns of white tulle with nylon net yokes, outlined with chantilly lace, and with long finger-tip sleeves. The full skirts ended in aisle-wide trains. Their veils of illusion trimmed in chantilly lace were held in place by beaded tiaras. They carried cascade bouquets of white daisies.

The bridegrooms wore identical grey business suits and white carnation boutonnières.

Miss Pearl Teigerstrum, of Stromsberg, a former college-mate, was Ardeth's maid-of-honor. She appeared in a floor-length sleeveless formal of pale blue and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Miss Lorraine Farrier, in an orchid floor-length formal of rayon sheer over taffeta, attended her sister, Jeanne, as maid-of-honor. She also carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. Ardeth's bridesmaids were Joan Daas, wearing a pale blue taffeta formal featuring a net yoke and carrying a bouquet of yellow daisies; Barbara Hardy, of Lincoln, a cousin, wearing an aqua formal with pink and aqua net over taffeta and also carrying a bouquet of yellow daisies.

The Misses Neva Jarman and

Diane Hoffman were Jeanne's bridesmaids. Neva appeared in a formal of yellow net over taffeta; Diane wore a formal of net over blue taffeta. Both carried bouquets of yellow daisies.

The ringbearers, Gary Dale and Mary Gayle Farrier, small twin brother and sister of the brides, carried the rings on round shaped white satin pillows edged in chantilly lace. They were made by Mrs. Alma Farrier, grandmother of the brides. Gayle wore a floor-length gown of Nile taffeta, and Gary a blue glen plaid suit.

Daryl Wedgewood was attended by Cpl. Don Marshall, of the air force, stationed at Offutt air base, Omaha. He wore his air force uniform with a white boutonniere.

J. R. Thieman, of Neligh, served as bestman for Lyle Clemens, and wore a dark business suit with white boutonniere. The usher, Harold Farrier, brother of the brides, and Ariand and James Tangeman, cousins of the brides, wore white carnations as did the fathers.

Mrs. H. R. Farrier, mother of the brides, wore a navy crepe dress with white accessories, and Mrs. Ross Wedgewood, mother of Daryl, wore a navy nylon sheer dress, also with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white daisies.

Mrs. H. H. Clemens, of Neligh, is in poor health and was not able to attend her son's wedding. Immediately following the wedding a reception for 125 guests was held in the church basement.

The Misses Ada DeHart and Joan Beed had charge of the guest books and the Misses Mary Jo Roth and Vivian Walter had charge of the gifts.

The three-tier wedding cakes, decorated in white and pink, were baked and decorated by the brides.

Ardeth's cake was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom; Jeanne's by love birds. Serving at the bridal tables were the Misses Mary Jo Roth and Mary Taggart.

Following the reception the bridal quartette left on a short honeymoon trip.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Wedgewood chose a white nylon dress with white accessories and Mrs. Clemens wore a pink brocade sheer dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Daryl Wedgewood is a graduate of the Chambers high school class, of 1949. She later attended Wesleyan university, Lincoln, for two summers and for the past three years has taught in the rural schools around Chambers.

Mrs. Lyle Clemens graduated from the Chambers high school with the class of 1952.

Both Mr. Wedgewood and Mr. Clemens graduated from the Neligh high school with the class of 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Wedgewood will live in Alma and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Clemens will make their home at Orleans where both the bridegrooms are employed with the Kewitt Construction company.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception included: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wedgewood, of Alma; Gary and DeLayne Clemens, of Neligh; Mrs. W. M. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leninger and Mrs. Esther Hardy and Barbara, all of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs, of Red Oak, Ia.; Mrs. Clara Stowell, of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hardy, of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Glen French, Bob and Patty Hardy, of Blair; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Werner and son, Gary, of Neligh; Mrs. Mann Lear, of Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. Levi Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Clemens and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher and daughters, all of Amelia; Miss Pearl Teigerstrum, of Stromsberg; J. P. Thieman, of Neligh; Cpl. Don Marshall, of Omaha, and Pvt. Larry Tangeman, of Baltimore, Md.
