Wash Day Facilities in 2 Places Afford Variety for Housewife

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Whew! Is this ever a dilly of a hot day—one of those days when you would just as soon you were living in the basement! Well, if you have one and it's adequate you may want to do your canning down there, particularly if the basement is equipped with stove, hot and cold water and such.

If you wash in the basement you might find an old table quite handy for both when you do the laundry and the canning in the basement. It keeps so much mess out of the house.

When we built our house Ray put a built on garage with it or rather the garage is part of the house plans. He had a laundry drain put in the garage and in the basement both and hot and cold water faucets installed in both.

We find the garage a handy place to wash during the summer months, handier than going to the basement and handling when hanging the clothes outside, too. There is no lugging clothes up and downstairs.

If you build a home with a built-on garage, consider this for saving time and work during the winter months.

TOMATO AND CHICKEN SALAD

This is the ideal time of year for this salad. You'll need a half cup cold boiled rice, ¾ cup diced cooked chicken, ¼ cup string beans, cut, two tablespoons chopped green pepper, ½ cup diced celery, one tablespoon minced parsley, 2/3 cup mayonnaise, 2/3 cup whipping cream, one tablespoon gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, ½ teaspoon salt. Tomato ice.

Combine the chicken, beans, rice, pepper, celery and parsley. Combine mayonnaise and whipped cream. Soften gelatin in cold water five minutes, then melt it over hot water. Cool. Add salt and combine all ingredients except to-bine all ingredients except to-mato ice. Line refrigerator pan with waxed paper and pour into it a layer of tomato ice, previously frozen to mush state. Then arrange layer of chicken salad and cover with another layer of tomato ice. Freeze. Serve in slices on lettuce. Makes 16 servings, about two inches square.

TOMATO ICE

Heat two cups of tomato juice and let partially cool. Add 1 tablespoon gelatin moistened in cold water. Then season with 1 teaspoon each of lemon juice, salt, Worcestershire sauce. Freeze.

Dear Blanche: I almost feel that I know you. I have read and enjoyed your column so many times. We do have one thing in common, we are both counting months until our sons' terms in the army will have passed. I was so happy for you when I heard your Bob was home from Korea.

Our boys went for their pre-induction examination at the same time. But our boy was left at home long enough to pick his corn. So his time won't be up so soon. We have missed and needed him so very much. Am so glad to see summer come. Thought I would try sweet peas this year for an inexpensive hobby that perhaps wouldn't take too much time. Planted two 10-foot rows some time ago, one of early Spencers, the other the New Cuthbertsons. Hope I didn't over do it.

One year I decided to raise pansies and planted a package of seed in flats and raised my own plants. I had 210 plants and put them all out. They were beautiful but perhaps you can imagine what it would do to a busy farm woman's schedule, to pick those every other morning.

Everyone who came to the place had to carry pansies away. And still I could never find enough flower bowls. Since then I have been willing to take my pansies by the dozen.

The gladiolus are the ones I really feel, return the most for the time and effort spent on them. I have many lovely varieties of them. Got bulbs for two new kinds this year, Elizabeth the Queen, a lavender, and Chamouny, rose edged with silver. Now, just in hopes these hints may help someone as busy as I am.

Did you know that any kind of cookies roll much easier if you chill the dough first. Bacon fries much easier in the oven than on top of the stove, browns evenly and seldom has to be turned.

Baking powder biscuits are delicious made with part cream and part milk and much easier to make than mixing shortening in.

PINEAPPLE NUT COOKIES
One-half cup butter or oleo ½ cup white sugar, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 egg, ½ cup crushed pineapple, drained, 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon soda, pinch salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup nuts, cut up. Cream shortening and sugar, add egg, beat well. Stir in pineapple, add flour, soda, salt, vanilla and nuts. Drop by teaspoon on buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 12 to 15 minutes.

League All-Star Game Is Planned

North Crew to Include Stars from O'Neill, Stuart and Bassett

The annual all-star baseball game in the north-central Nebraska baseball league will be played at O'Neill Sunday, June 29, at 8:30 p.m. at Carney park. Leslie Lieswald, manager of the Chambers team, will boss the all-stars from the teams in the south half of the loop—Chambers, Ewing and Bartlett.

Fred Appleby, manager of the O'Neill Rockets will run the north group, which will be composed of the best players from O'Neill, Stuart and Bassett.

Four men from each team will play on the all-star teams. There will be one pitcher from each team who will be allowed to pitch three innings each.

The park will be mowed and sprayed in order to eliminate the mosquito threat. Sunday will be an otherwise idle date for all member teams of the league.

O'NEILL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis and family of Encinitas, Calif., are visiting in the James Cavanaugh home at Chambers and with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cavanaugh. Mrs. Fred Robertson returned to her home Saturday afternoon, June 21, after spending a week in Sheldon, Ia., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John DeHoogh.

Rocket Boss Gets Toe in Lawnmower

Big Fred Appleby, co-manager of the O'Neill Rockets baseball team, lost a decision to his power lawnmower Friday morning.

He sliced off about three-fourths of an inch from the top of his big toe while trimming his lawn.

Appleby's services as a player are expected to be lost for the season as a result of the mishap.

History proves that industrial development is unstable unless it rests on a broad adequate foundation of soil production.
