Why I Am Thankful Today

By MAUDE SILVERSTRAND, Atkinson

I am thankful today for the dream that became, is, and shall be forever America. I am thankful for ancestors who caught the vision and proved to me how much it meant to them when they shed their blood that it might live.

I am thankful for parents who taught me to believe in honesty and sincerity.

I am thankful that the United States still represents God's dream and ours that it (the flag) still beckons to a weary, heart-sick world.

I am glad I can and do believe in America.

Unwanted Meters Shipped from Here

The county judge admitted the petition, which is lawful when the district judge is absent. He was further issued a restraining order which, in effect, was designed to restrain the city from further obstructing the installation of the meters.

By this time the natives were in a quandary. Proceedings resembled a game. What fouls had been committed and who committed them, if any, wasn't the question. Everyone wanted to know: What about the meters, wanted or unwanted, do we get them or don't we?

The petition drawn by Gruminger named all members of the council, Mayor Davis and Attorney Griffin as defendants and hearing was set for December 2. Gruminger charged that the Duncan representative was "threatened with jail" and that the O'Neill police department had orders to uproot the machines if they were installed.

The petition prayed that the court would terminate that sort of goings-on in this Councilman Emmet Crab, Joe Stutz, M. J. Golden, L. M. Merriman, Norbert Uhl and Marvin Johnson were served summons.

Next day—Saturday—Griffin filed in district court a petition asking the court to restrain Duncan from proceeding with the installation of the machines.

Meanwhile, a generous flow of statewide publicity focused attention on the progress of the meter melodrama.
