Coming to Chambers

"You will see the traditions of Israel, its religious practices, places prominent in its history, the Mt. of Olives, the Sea of Galilee, the garden of Gethsemane, Calvary, and many scenes associated with the life and ministry of Israel's rejected Messiah in a film coming soon to Chambers," it was stated this week by Rev. L. M. McEltheran, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, Chambers.

All these—and more—will be presented in a gorgeous color film of the land which once was desert, but which today under the skillful, untiring efforts of the Jewish people is beginning to "blossom as the rose," according to Reverend McEltheran.

The picture will be shown at Memorial Baptist church on Sunday night, November 30, at 8 p.m. "You will be held spell-bound from start to finish with a message of primary importance to Christian and unbeliever alike. Among other interesting considerations this film asks the searching questions, How much time is left? Is our Lord's return at hand?"

This fascinating 45-minute picture offers many educational features as well as being a dramatic documentary of Old Testament prophecy fulfilled in present-day for the American association for Israel. Filmed in the Holy Land for the American association for Jewish Evangelism of Winona Lake, Ind., this full-length picture will thrill you with its stirring story, which is highlighted against the background of a nation's rebirth.
