

Goodies, Yes, but Don't Eat Anything to Keep It from Going to Waste (Waist!)

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Don't look now but all these goodies are certainly going to do things to our waist lines. Let's not eat anything to keep it from going to waste; for if we do, it's sure to go to waist!

If you have some good left over chicken or turkey or other fowl, it is good served creamed on baking powder biscuits and it goes farther that way, too.

If you have a freezer, and there is an excess of food left over from the big dinner, you may prefer to freeze part of it, rather than eat leftovers for two or three days. It certainly will taste much better, I feel sure. An excess of baked things might do for New Year's, if frozen, if you are having no one but the family for New Year's or for New Year's eve.

It's easy to make a New Year's cake. Just letter a clock face on the cake, with both hands pointing to 12.

If you ask friends in for a watch party, which is always fun, refreshments don't have to be elaborate and you can start the year in friendliness.

In the middle of December, each year you make a vow that next year will be different: You won't be rushed like you are now.

But the way to achieve that is to start shopping carefully with the New Year.

Mrs. Waller Tells of Good Cranberry Recipe—
Winner of three-month subscription prize this week is Mrs. W. W. Waller of O'Neill. Her letter follows:
Dear Blanche,

I've tried for weeks to find a few minutes to write to you. Your column in The Frontier is one of a highlight of the paper, for me. I've used so many of the recipes and helpful hints, I feel it's time I was contributing a couple.

I have a cranberry salad that's so good and it can be made up hours ahead and handy to serve. I like it both at Thanksgiving and Christmas time.

The ingredients are:
Chop fine or grind one quart

cranberries and two large red apples, add 1 1/2 cups of sugar and let stand several hours or over night. Dissolve one package resperry gelatin in one pint of boiling water and add to mixture. When chilled but not set, add two cups chopped celery and 1/2 cup nut meats. Place in molds and set aside in cool place. Top with a dab of whipped cream with mayonnaise added.

I have a yummy dessert that's liked at our house and maybe some of your readers would like it. It's called—

BLACK MAGIC

One small angel food (in pieces), one package semi sweet chocolate chips, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons water, four eggs, 1/4 cup additional sugar, one cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate chip, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons of water over low heat or in a double boiler. Separate eggs, beat yolks until thick and stir into mixture and stir constantly. Beat egg whites until stiff and add 1/4 cup sugar. Fold into the chocolate mixture and then add whipped cream.

Use a large loaf cake pan and put a layer of angel food cake, torn into pieces. Pour a small amount of sauce over the cake. Add another layer of cake and more sauce, and continue until all is used. Let stand 24 hours. Serve with a little whipped cream.

I have a Christmas cookie recipe I intended to send you, but I've used more than my share of space in your column. I wish you and your family a very Merry Christmas and continued success and happiness.

BLACK CHERRY DESERT SALAD

One package cherry flavored gelatine, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 1/2 cup canned black cherry juice, one tablespoon vinegar, 2/3 cup fresh grapefruit sections free from membrane, 1/2 cup canned black cherries (drained), 15 pecan halves.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cherry juice and vinegar. Pour a thin layer into ring mold and chill until firm. Chill remaining gelatin until thickened. Arrange half of grapefruit and cherries on firm layer. Cover with slightly thickened gelatin and sprinkle with nuts. Chill until firm. Fill mold with remaining slightly thickened gelatin and add remaining grapefruit sections and cherries. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with water cress and chicory. Serve with cream dressing. Serves six.

Cpl. and Mrs. Raymond Walter arrived Friday, December 12, from Ft. Bragg, N. C., to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walter and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Jones. Corporal Walter will leave on Christmas day to return to Ft. Bragg where he will spend three months on maneuvers.

Twice Convicted' plays at Chambers Church—

CHAMBERS—Through the years, the amazing story of Dr. Fred Garland, convict number 63913, has thrilled the thousands who have heard him tell it in person.

Sunday eve it was presented at Chambers in film in a way which will never be forgotten: the incidents which led an average young man into a life of crime, dope addiction and moral deterioration; the unsavory characters he met who (he thought) held the keys to happiness and success; his travel from the fascinating lights of Broadway to the heartbreaking sights of the Bowery; and of how God reached his heart in his hour of greatest darkness—when he was "Twice Convicted."

The picture was presented at Memorial Baptist church.
