Steers Strong to Quarter Higher

At Omaha Monday a large proportion of the run of cattle consisted of fed steers and heifers, less than 15 percent cows and 20 percent stockers and feders. Early sales of medium to good steers were strong to a quarter or more higher, but the market generally on steers and heifers was slow to about steady, some late bids steady to weak.

A load of longfed 1,347-pound steers topped the day's selling at $32.00 with a choice to prime load at $31.00. A load of 920-pound mixed steers and heifers at $30.50; heifers to $28.00. Bulk of steers ranged from $24.00 to $27.50. Cows sold steady to 50 cents higher, beef cows $13.25 to $15.25; canners and cutters $11.50 to $13.00. Bulls sold steady to 50 cents higher, beef bulls to $17.50, bolognas to $17.50. Choice vealers quotable to $28.00.

Stockers and feeder cattle and calves sold generally steady. Two loads of 750-pound Idaho feeder steers at $24.50. Good stock steer calves $22.00 to 26.00. The hog market was steady to 25 cents higher than Friday's average. The butcher top of $19.00 was sparingly paid. 180-360 pound barrows and gilts, $16.50-$19.00; 270-550 pound sows $14.50 to $16.

'Voice' in Another Blizzard Broadcast

(Continued from page 1.) crawling eastward from O'Neill, pulling out about 7:30. The switchboard at St. Anthony's hospital is on the blink this morning, but we did get a call through. There have been no reports of persons suffering from cold or exposure. However, there will be... if any motorist sets out in this storm. That's a grim warning... but it's true.

Most livestock men are pretty well prepared for this storm. Few took very seriously the balmy weather of Monday and Tuesday, when the mercury was in the forties and fifties and much of the snow, which had been on the ground since Christmas, managed to melt.

But this is a different story this morning. This is a new storm... lots of fresh snow... three or four inches... and it's cold. The frontier went to press last evening on schedule, but those big sacks of mail are not going very far this morning. The Frontier paper were dispatched on the westbound train to Emmet, Atkinson and Stuart.

But the star route truck to Winnebago, S.D., did not start out. A severe storm is raging out at Gordon and Cody, according to word received here on the North Western telegraph lines. The quality of this broadcast might not be up to par... technically speaking, because these lines are noisy and we're lucky to have one.

Well, that's the O'Neill story this morning. O'Neill perhaps is in no different position than a hundred and one other communities in the Midwest. But we have the radio facilities... and we were compelled to give you a run down. Of course we'll be back on the air in the event of any drastic changes in the weather picture... or any urgent news. Stay tuned to WJAG.

This is George Hammond speaking for Cal Stewart and myself... it's Cal on that typewriter. That's it for now. Back to Glen Hixson.

New Fishing Lake in Antelope Planned

Not too distant fishing prospects for the state soared as the Nebraska game commission announced the construction of new Grove lake in Antelope county is planned to begin early this coming summer.

The game commission is presently preparing final plans and specifications for the impoundment. The construction will be sometime this spring.

To be constructed on the headwaters of spring-fed Verdigris creek, the new lake should be approximately 30 feet deep at the
