ALL-CROP Harvester Sets the Pace

There's only one ALL-CROP Harvester. Built by Allis-Chalmers, it's the "standard" of performance in the harvest field.

Whether in harvesting soybeans or any of the other threshable crops, the ALL-CROP Harvester is tops.

It costs less, is easy to operate, and has a complete line of attachments for special needs. For example, the new wide divider attachment pictured at the left permits you to harvest two 40-inch or 42-inch rows more easily. Curved rod extensions reach ahead and below dividers to gather in lodged or tangled beans.

Let us show you why the ALL-CROP Harvester continues to set the pace for a dependable home harvest of beans, grain, and seeds.
