EROSION IS EATING UP THOUSANDS OF FARM ACRES...

IS YOUR FARM INCLUDED?

Recent estimates place the annual donation to wind and water erosion at the staggering figure of 3 billion tons of soil materials containing available and potential plant nutrients worth 3 billion dollars.

Think of it! Thousands of acres... billions of dollars "down the drain" every year. Very likely your farm is adding its share; it is, unless you're practicing approved soil conservation methods recommended by experts in your community. Conservation farming is level-land farming. It will pay you to discuss soil-saving and profit-building farming practices with your local soil conservation representative. Do it the next time you're in town!

WE WILL BE PLEASED TO DISCUSS YOUR BANKING AND FINANCE PROBLEMS WITH YOU.
