

The Frontier Woman Cheap Plastic Necklaces from Dime Store Make Novel Curtain Tiebacks

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Looking for something new and different in the way of tie-backs for your kitchen curtains? Trot down to the five and ten and buy some of those cheap plastic necklaces and use them to hold back the kitchen curtains, for a novel idea!

If you have some of those old flower corsages (imitation) left over that you never wear anymore, tuck them into the curtain tiebacks for a wee touch of something different for awhile.

Did you learn to make nylon corsages at club? Then have you considered making them in larger sizes and arranging a table centerpiece to use when fresh flowers are not available? It's fun!

Empty sprayer equipped window cleaner bottles are fine filled with water and used to spray the dust off your house plants. It will do the job quickly and efficiently.

Watching the budget? Then skimp on the meat expenditure by purchasing a 12-ounce can of table ready meat. Cut it in slices. Cook four ounces of elbow macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, about 10 minutes. Drain and rinse.

COBS & GALS

While the macaroni is cooking, combine a half cup salad dressing, one teaspoon prepared mustard, two tablespoons chili sauce and one teaspoon salt. Fold in the sliced table ready meat, three diced hard cooked eggs and one cup cooked peas and macaroni. Chill well. Serve on lettuce leaves.

BANANA PEANUT FAN SALAD

This recipe makes one individual serving, you make up whatever you need. Make just before serving. Peel and cut a banana crosswise into halves. Split each half lengthwise and spread open as a fan. Place bananas on a salad plate, sprinkle cut surfaces with peanuts. Garnish with greens. Serve with mayonnaise or cream dressing.

Lynch Housewife Wins Subscription

Dear Mrs. Pease: I often wanted to write to you but somehow I always kept putting it off. So I am now writing you a letter. I wish I could win a subscription to The Frontier, as we all enjoy it so much. We are farm folk.

I am enclosing a couple of recipes that I hope someone else will try. This cake is easily mixed up.

MARIE'S CAKE

Two cups sugar, 1/2 cup butter, two eggs, 1/2 cup sour milk, four squares chocolate, two cups flour, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon soda dissolved in a little boiling water, one cup boiling water. Cream sugar and butter. Add eggs. Cut chocolate in pieces and pour over it one cup boiling water. Let cool. Add sour milk alternately with flour. Lastly add the chocolate mixture. Bake in moderate oven until done.

CINNAMON PECAN ROLLS

These cinnamon pecan rolls can be made in a hurry if you have on hand a package of "brown and serve" dinner rolls. One teaspoon melted butter, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, one tablespoon sugar, chopped pecans. Brush butter over the top of each roll. Combine the cinnmon and sugar and sprinkle one-half teaspoon over each roll. Top with the chopped pecans. Bake in a greased shallow pan in a moderate oven of 400 degrees for about 15 minutes. Serve at once.

They are handy to have when you want something extra in a hurry.

"LYNCH HOUSEWIFE"

SAYS SANDHILL SAL

April is a deceiver. She will smile and dimple and promise lovely weather, only to cloud up and let you have it!

It isn't that any of us want so much, it's just that each of us wants more than we've got. Picture windows often frame a lot more than they were ever intended to. They work both ways.

Patricia Olson, Marlin D. Elkins Wed at Columbus

CHAMBERS — Miss Patricia Olson of Norfolk became the bride of Marlin Dean Elkins of Chambers at a simple wedding ceremony performed at the courthouse in Columbus Wednesday, March 25.
