It Happened In NEBRASKA...

Are you old enough to remember the word "Chautauqua" . . . when once traveling lecturers and cultural shows were the principal form of entertainment? Many a Nebraskan was inspired by the silver-tongued oratory of William Jennings Bryan, lecture king of the Chautauqua circuit. Then came the new-fangled motion pictures, just too much competition for speechifying!

An even newer trend has been the acceptance of taverns as a respected part of community life. Today Nebraska's tavern patrons find clean, wholesome establishments in which to trade and where the law is respected!
