

Stuart Banker Named President Brewster to Lead Group III

J. G. Brewster, president of the Tri-County bank of Stuart, on Wednesday, April 22, was elected president of group III, Nebraska Bankers' association, at its 54th annual convention held in Norfolk. He succeeds C. W. Fahnestock of Laurel, president of the Security National bank.

V. E. Rossiter, Bank of Hartington president, was made group III vice-president.

The bankers adopted resolutions urging the state highway department "to obtain more improvement for each highway dollar disbursed"; the federal government "to discontinue its policy of making directly or through its agencies, loans or loan guarantees which add to inflationary pressures."

The bankers also urged that all taxing and governing bodies eliminate non-essential spending and pledged support of savings bonds, soil conservation, 4-H club and Future Farmers of America activities.

The bankers advocated that taxes be levied in an equitable manner in an amount sufficient to pay necessary current expenditures and provide for the orderly reduction of the federal debt. They also pledged support to the state officers in carrying out their work in the state association.

H. J. Bornholdt of Wausa, chairman, reported for the resolutions committee, and Mr. Stroon, chairman, for the nominating committee.

J. M. Shonsey of the Omaha Livestock National bank told the bankers the future of the livestock industry is "great" because the population of the country in the next 25 to 30 years will increase from 155 millions to 180 million and the industry has almost reached its capacity in production.

WAKE UP - or die!

Nearly 20,000 people died in the dark—in the night-time traffic accidents in 1950. Over 750,000 were injured in the hours from dusk to dawn. Last year these casualties went still higher.

Night accidents are one of the greatest factors in the increasing highway death toll. Fatigue, poor illumination, headlight glare, faulty vision, and the greater number of dangerous drinking drivers at night are the major causes of this tragic nocturnal record.

Another big factor—in both night and day-time fatalities—is "highway hypnosis." On long drives over smooth, unending roads the steady hypnotic monotony of humming wheels lulls drivers into a dangerous mental blank. Alertness gone, reactions at a low ebb, the worst can happen—and does.

What do you do when you become drowsy while driving?
Safe drivers, recognizing the danger signal, pull off the road and relax. Perhaps they stop for a cup of coffee and stretch their legs, or let someone else take the wheel. They know, as every good driver knows, that safety demands alert driving, particularly at night when the killing rate per vehicle is as much as four times greater in proportion to traffic volume than it is in the daytime.

When you are driving in a fog of fatigue—pull over! Wake up, or die!

Drive As Though Your Life Depends On It - - IT DOES!
