Great-Grandmothers Receive Recognition

'Through the Years' Is Banquet Theme

CHAMBERS—A mother-daughter banquet sponsored by the Women's society of the Methodist church was held on Thursday, April 30, in the church parlors. One hundred forty were present.

"Through the years" was the theme chosen. The table decorations were tall candles and miniature dolls in pastel dresses. The program and menu was in booklet form. The covers, in various pastel shades, were decorated with a mother and daughter in black silhouette. The nut cups were yellow lilies on a green leaf.

A program of musical numbers, toasts and readings carried out the theme. Special honor, was conferred upon the 12 great-grandmothers present. These included Mrs. Alma Farrier, Mrs. Charlotte Honeywell, Mrs. Primus, Mrs. Etta Kellar, Mrs. Edith McClellan, Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Jennie Gibson, Mrs. Charles Spann, Mrs. Harkins, Mrs. Hertel, Mrs. John Wintermote and Mrs. Victoria Wood. Each lady was presented a red rose. Their ages were from 74 to 90 years.

Recognition was given a four-generation group including Mrs. Primus, Mrs. John Summerer and Mrs. Frank Tomjack and daughter.

Mrs. E. H. Medcalf was the grandmother having the most grandchildren; Mrs. Don Prill, the youngest mother and Norma Rae Wintermote, the youngest daughter present.

A review of wedding dresses "through the years" climaxed the evening. The gowns dated from 1891 to 1952 and were modeled by a group of girls.

The condition of the roads due to the recent rains prevented many from attending who had intended being present.

Auxiliary Presents Book to Library

LYNCH—The American League auxiliary presented a book entitled, "I Chose Freedom," to the Lynch public school library. This book was chosen from a recommended list prepared by the National Americanism commission. The book contained a plate with a wreath and the auxiliary emblem. Within the wreath were the following words: "Dedicated to Lynch servicemen for honorable service in the armed forces of the United States in perpetuating the ideals of freedom and liberty."

In participating in this book gift plan, the auxiliary feels it is helping to accomplish two things: First, commemorate the heroism of hometown servicemen and women; secondly, furnish the library with sound, authoritative anti-communist books.

Glen Miller Is Surprised by Friends
CHAMBERS—Glen Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Miller, was surprised Saturday, April 18, when eight neighbor boys came to help him celebrate his 11th birthday anniversary which occurred on Friday, April 17. The afternoon was spent playing games.

Many gifts were received. Those present besides Glen were Raymond and John Strong, Gale and Gary Holcomb, Kieth Halsey, Kenneth Coolidge, Darold Emmer, and Bobby Gartner. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Butts' Ship Services 40 Battleships
CHAMBERS—Charles O. Butts, engineman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kellar of Chambers, is serving aboard the largest commissioned vessel in the United States navy. The ship, the auxiliary floating drydock one, is equipped with enough anchoring equipment to furnish 40 battleships. Her displacement is 100,000 tons. The vessel was commissioned in 1943.

It Happened in NEBRASKA---

A frontier "family portrait" was a serious thing. Here is a typical family grouping for the Big Event. Head of the family sits with sons and daughters. In this case the wife was dead, so her photograph "posed." Objects of pride—horses, even a sewing machine—were brought out for the occasion, while in the background we see the hired men.

A portrait of today's Nebraska would necessarily include its vigilance against unwise tavern operation. A continuing educational campaign by the brewing industry keeps taverns operating openly, cleanly, and in conformity with the law.
