Camp Witness Awaits 8th Annual Session

The eighth annual session of Camp Witness, the young peoples Bible conference of the American Sunday-School Union, will be held Monday, June 22, to Sunday, June 28, on the Camp Witness Bible camp grounds, four miles northeast of Long Pine. Camp will begin with supper Monday evening and will close with flag-lowering ceremonies Sunday afternoon.

Although Camp Witness is conducted primarily for the young people from the Union Sunday-schools on the Long Pine field, the Valentine field will also be bringing its young people, and all others, regardless of church or Sunday-school affiliation are cordially invited to attend, a spokesman said.

The age limits have been set from 11-years-old and up. Younger children may come if definitely immune to homesickness or if accompanied by an older camper.

Donation of cash and foodstuffs will be depended upon to erase any deficit which may occur.

A faculty of teachers and workers has been secured for this camp. Among them will be Rev. and Mrs. K. F. Sonder of Belden, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Rempel of Mills, Missionary Delbert D. Dick of Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Oiling and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Oiling, all of Zion, Ill. Miss Sophia Porter of Bassett, and others.

Mrs. Wilma Wyatt of Springfield will again be the cooks. They will be assisted by ladies from various schools. Rev. and Mrs. George E. Hollingshead of Long Pine are camp directors.

Special features on this year's program will be the visits of "The King's Envoys", a musical group, and their leader, Rev. L. MacDougall of Briercrest Bible institute, Caronport, Sask., Can., June 27 and 28 and George B. German, "Engaging Farm Reporter" of radio station WNAX, Yankton, S. D., who will make one of his broadcast recordings at camp Wednesday, June 24.

Visitors are welcome at Camp Witness at any time, and are especially invited to attend family day, Sunday, June 28.

IT'S EASY WITH INSULATING BOARD Attic Now A Circus Room

Just an ordinary attic remodeling job wasn't enough for this family, faced with an overcrowded housing problem. They picked a circus theme. And they did most of the work themselves, using hardboard and lumber for the trimmings, and predecorated insulation board to decorate and insulate the ceiling. Now it's complete with ring, side show and menagerie—really a fun room for the kiddies.
