

Cleveland Bible Camp Terminates

STUART—The annual Cleveland Bible camp closed Sunday, July 12, with a worship service at 11 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Orin Graff. A picnic dinner followed by a demonstration service by the campers, a display of handiwork, a newspaper on the Bible, selections by the speaking choir and the camp orchestra composed of Henrietta Coats, Jane Henderson, Mary Ann Allyn, Doreen Shattuck and Calvin McClurg.

The camp, with an ideal location on Beaver creek, is a project sponsored by the Cleveland Presbyterian church and the Stuart Community church for the benefit of the young people in this area.

It is supported by freewill offerings and donations of food, time, talents and labor of individuals and the ladies' societies of the churches.

A new kitchen floor was added this year, also water was piped to the camp from a spring. The first camp, June 30-July 3, was for eighth grade graduates and high school students with 25 enrolled, three of whom came from Bonesteel, S.D. Teachers were Rev. F. F. Pavaas, Rev. D. D. Su, Mrs. Linford Sweet and Mrs. Arlin Caster.

The study theme included Jewish history and the "Parables of Jesus," with discussion on how to apply Jesus' teaching to daily living. There were morning and evening devotions each day with a consecration service Friday evening.

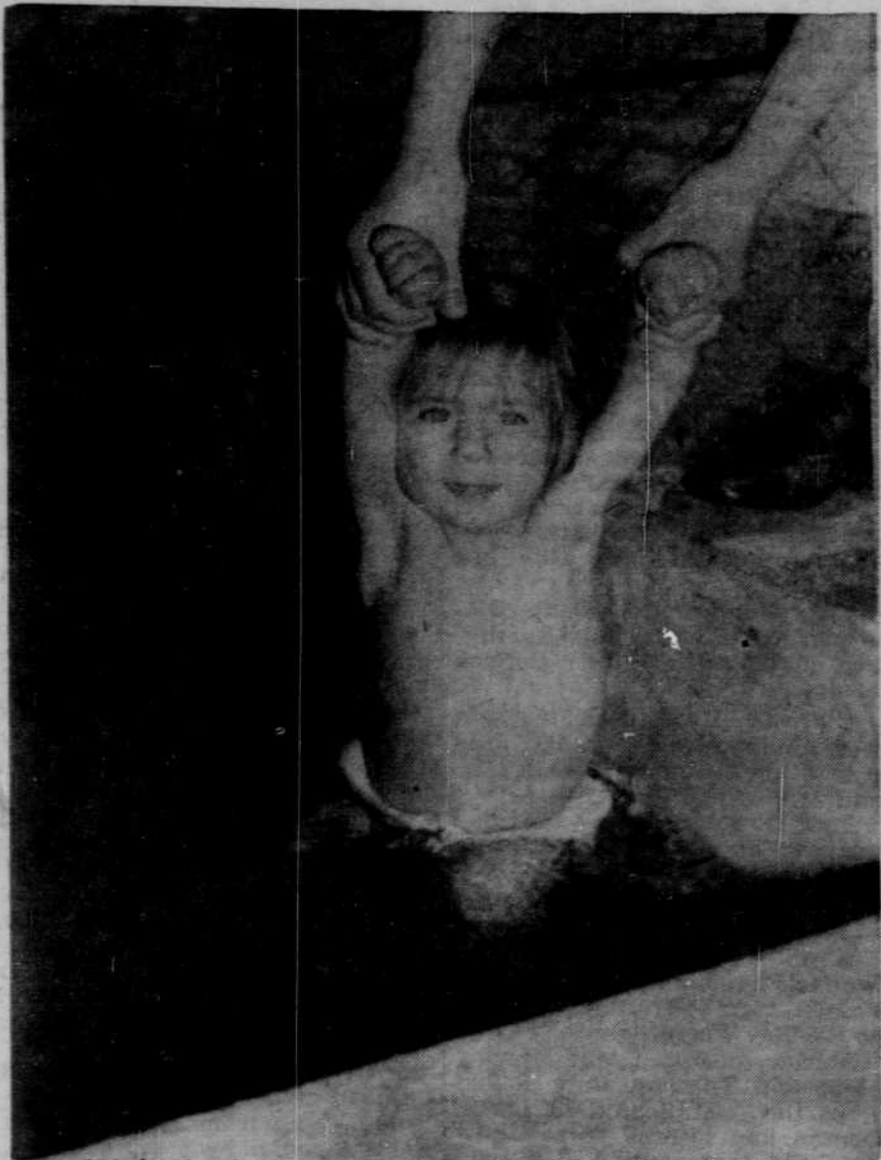

The intermediate camp of fifth to eighth grade students was held July 7-12 with 57 children attending.

The daily program was flag raising and devotions with Bible study in the morning followed by nature study, handicraft and recreation in the afternoon.

There was a public service each evening. On Tuesday Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Su, in costume, gave a missionary program on China. Wednesday evening there were pictures by Reverend Su. On Thursday evening there were pictures and an address on Alaska by Mrs. Sterling Rainey, also a chalk talk by Mrs. Dale Henderson. Friday, an address, "Work Among the Indians in Mexico," by Rev. and Mrs. F. F. Pavaas. Saturday there was a bonfire and consecration service.

Among the personnel who helped with the camp were camp preachers: Rev. Orin Graff, Rev. F. F. Pavaas and Rev. D. D. Su; dean, William Mulford; general manager, Mrs. Linford Sweet; registrar, Miss Laura Mulford; song leader, Miss Jean Cobb; pianist, Miss Henrietta Coats; camp mother, Mrs. F. F. Pavaas; chief cook, Mrs. Sterling Rainey, assisted by Mrs. George Hitchcock. Mrs. D. D. Su and Mrs. Charles Mulford.

Handicraft teachers were Mrs. Donald Krotter and Miss Corrine Sweet. Recreation leaders were Calvin McClurg and Fred Mulford. Squad leaders were Grace Allyn, Gayle Siebert, Mary Ann Allyn, Wayne Purizer, Kenny Coats, Kay Johnson, Jean Cobb, Henrietta Coats, Alice Allyn, Laura Mulford, Jeanene Johnson.

National Crochet Competition at Fair

The Holt County Agricultural society, sponsor of the annual Holt county fair, is giving local crocheters an opportunity to compete for $2,600 and three free trips to New York City by sponsoring the 1953 nationwide crochet contest. In addition to the cash awards which will go to the national winners, blue ribbons will be awarded at the fair for top pieces in each classification and a "best of fair" trophy will be presented to the crocheter whose piece is chosen best of all.

There will be 16 contest classifications at the fair, which will be held in Chambers the first week in September. They are: Tablecloths, bedspreads, luncheon cloths and sets, centerpieces (14" and over), buffet and vanity sets, chair sets, doilies (under 14"), scarves and wall panels, household accessories, edgings and insertions, fashion accessories, pot holders and hot plate mats, doll clothes, men only, teen-age girls and ladies over 65.

All entries in the nationwide crochet contest must have been completed since January 1, 1953, and must be crocheted of mercerized cotton in any size thread up to and including 100. In addition, to be eligible for the national judging which will take place late in the year in New York City, an entry must have won a nationwide crochet contest ribbon at a participating state, county or local fair.

This year the national prize money in the crochet contest has been increased to $2,600 in addition to three free trips to New York City. The grand national champion will receive $500, an engraved loving cup and an all-expense trip to New York City. Top winners in both the men only and teen-age girl classifications will each receive $110, plus engraved trophies and all-expense trips. In addition, expenses will be paid for one parent or guardian of the teen-age winner. The balance of the prize money will be awarded to the national first, second, third, fourth and honorable mention winners in each of the 16 contest classifications.

Edwin Wink of Chambers, Holt county fair secretary, will be happy to supply interested crocheters with additional information on the event.

Letter to Editor

Chicago, Ill.
Editor:
That letter in a recent issue of The Frontier regarding two O'Neill men meeting by accident in far off Suez in 1908 must have been from Montana Dan Sullivan, brother of Montana Jack Sullivan. It was Dan who went to Australia with Tommy Burns. Jack was a nationally known middleweight boxer before that time. The Carney referred to in the letter must have been Billy Carney, who traveled around the world as a young man.—Reader.
