Missionary Giving at Camp Meeting

The annual Assemblies of God camp meeting held at Lexington this year in many respects the most outstanding Assemblies of God camp meeting ever held in this state. The Sunday-school attendance the final Sunday reached an all-time high with 621 present. An estimated one thousand people filled the tabernacle the final Sunday.
 One of the Nebraska ministers, Loren O. Triplett, pastor at Burwell, volunteered to go to South America as a missionary. The ministers and laity responded to his challenge by giving liberally. A great missionary rally was held the last afternoon of the camp.
 A Plymouth suburban car was driven into the tabernacle and the crowd was challenged to give enough money to buy and transport this vehicle to South America for the Triplett to use in missionary work. A total of $2,778.29 in cash was given. Pledges amounting to $3,046.84 were made toward the Triplett's outfit and fare. Also $220 a month for a period of four years was pledged toward their support while on the field.

Other offerings and pledges for both home and foreign missions during the camp brought the total missionary giving for the camp to the amount of $17,719.82.
