Purchasing No. 2 Cream Now Unlawful

Recent Legislature Passes Law

Buying number 2 cream became unlawful Monday, September 14.

Under a law passed by the 1933 legislature cream buyers are prohibited from purchasing poor grade cream for use in making butter.

State Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt of Lincoln said the new law will improve the quality of butter sold in Nebraska.

And Gould Flagg, director of the dairy and foods division, predicted the new law will benefit the industry.

"Improved quality always raises the demand. This was demonstrated when the grade A milk law was passed," Flagg commented.

Flagg and his division the past week completed a series of meetings at 18 places over the state in which the law was explained to more than 1,000 creamery operators.

Unlawful cream is defined as cream that is "stale, rancid, mouldy, yeasty, dirty, curdy, decomposed, contains or has contained flies, other insects, other objectionable matter, or contains undesirable flavors or odors."

"Unlawful cream is that which is either sweet or sour, contains no undesirable flavors or odors, and is free from objectionable sediment."

Unlawful milk or cream is to be either destroyed or mixed with an approved harmless coloring substance, such as cake coloring. That is to prevent its being used for human consumption or shipped someplace else.

Other laws affecting the farmer which went into effect Monday include:

An act prohibiting the sale of certain kinds of equipment if the manufacturer's serial number has been falsified.

An anti-brucellosis law under which a state-federal program of combatting the cattle disease is possible. Testing of cattle is under way, Hoyt said, and campaigns will be launched in certain areas.

An act allowing the setting up of a poultry and egg price information service. Hoyt said producers are raising $5,900 as their contribution to the program. The federal government will match this figure, but the state will contribute no funds.

O'Neill on State Air Tour Itinerary

An air tour of the state including a visit to O'Neill, sponsored jointly by the Nebraska Aviation association, Ninety-Nines, Flying Farmers, National Aeronautic association, Civil air patrol and the department of Aeronautics will be held on October 7, 8, 9 and 10. This will be the first state-wide air tour since 1931 and is planned in celebration of the 50th anniversary of powered flight.

The starting point of the tour will be Hastings. Plans call for those participating in the tour to arrive in Hastings in the late afternoon of October 7. The evening will be spent at Hastings and an early morning departure for breakfast at Kearney is scheduled. From there the tour will stop at Gothenburg, lunch at North Platte; Lake McConaughy and spend the night at Alliance. After breakfast at Alliance on the morning of October 9, the tour will proceed to Gordon, Valentine for lunch. O'Neill, and will stay at Norfolk overnight. Breakfast on October 10 will be served at Columbus and from there the tour goes to Fremont, Lincoln for lunch, Beatrice and Omaha for overnight. The tour will wind up with evening entertainment and activities in Omaha.

Mrs. Jess Scofield and Alice visited friends in Little Sioux, Ia., on Monday.

Pollock-Kellner Nuptials at Orchard

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 13, at St. Peter's English Lutheran church in Orchard, when Miss Dorothy Pollock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pollock of Ewing, became the bride of Donald H. Kellner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kellner of Valentine. Rev. R. W. Olson of O'Neill officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of one hundred guests.

The candles were lighted by Miss Doris Lou Gunter and Miss Marilyn Brodie. Miss Gunter wore pastel pink and Miss Brodie wore a lavender ballerina length gown.

Floor baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and pom-poms and candelabra decorated the church.

Bill Zimmerman presided at the organ and played the wedding march and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Glen Miller, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Pollock. She wore a floor length dress of slipper satin, featuring a nylon net yoke and long sleeves pointed at the wrists.

Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls and she wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white mums and carnations.

Miss Eleanor Pollock was maid-of-honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina length gown with and a lace bodice and net skirt over taffeta in turquoise blue. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dan Shelburn and Mrs. Charles Vrooman, their dresses made on the order of that of the honor attendant, in the same color. All wore half hats of white satin studded with rhinestones and each carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Roy W. Berner was bestman for the bridegroom. Ushers were Don Shelburn and Melvin Gunter.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom wore navy blue with pink corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's colors of turquoise blue and white were used for decoration. Mrs. Marion Lein, sister of the bridegroom, poured. Miss Mary Ann Bouska had charge of the guest book.

Miss Effie Stevens had charge of the gifts. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Mark Spann of Bassett and was cut and served by Mrs. Marie Salisbury of O'Neill.

After a wedding trip, the Kellners will make their home at 129 E. Clay street, O'Neill, where Mr. Kellner is employed by Consumers Public Power district.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eacker and Joelyn, Mrs. Jessie Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Verle Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lee and Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Gunter, all of Ewing; Mr. and Mrs. Don Pollock of Neligh; Miss Eleanor Pollock of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Troy Van Winkle of Silver Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Divan, Mrs. Helen Gehrig and daughters and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, all of Gordon; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kellner, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shelburn, all of Valentine; Mrs. Marion Lein and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kellner, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hendricks and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lyden and Joann, and Russ Guston, all of Minden, and a host of friends from O'Neill, Orchard, Ewing and Bassett.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hansen and son, Tony, of Norfolk returned to their home after spending a week visiting at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carsten Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Flood.

Plan Your Meals Week Ahead

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Do you know that you'll be a better buyer, use your own canned foods more economically and serve better meals if you'll plan your meals a week ahead of time?

Sit down with paper and pencil and figure out your menus. You can keep them flexible to include leftovers and changes. But plan what meat you're going to serve, and what is to go with it for dessert, vegetable and salads.

Start out by planning the meal. If you have meat in a home freezer or locker, intersperse your purchases with some canned meats in the fish line such as salmon and tuna fish, and canned luncheon meats, and also with the traditional cold cuts that you buy at the store.

At our place we have a home freezer. We not only put in our own beef, pork, poultry and fish, but I buy cold cuts in quantity, sliced, and package into meal quantities and wrap. Plan the type of potatoes to go with the meat, that is baked potatoes with oat, mashed potatoes with something like boiled beef and noodles. You'll want to suit the salad to the type of meal, too, and the vegetable.

Plan your meals not only according to foods, but try to have color contrast and contrast of texture, too. That is, not all white foods and something chewy and something soft.

Divide your food dollar to include the basic seven in foods. That means milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, meats, poultry, fish and eggs, breads and cereals, and fats.

Your food dollar should be spent something like this: Twenty cents or more for milk and milk products, 30 cents for fruits and vegetables, 25 cents or less for meats, poultry, fish and eggs, 15 cents for bread and cereals and 10 cents or less for fats such as butter, margarine, salad oil, salt pork and such.

Have at least one dish different from the rest. If it's a hot meal, serve a cool salad or dessert. If it's a cold meal, serve a hot soup or a hot scalloped dish for instance. Variety is the spice of meals.

Have something for accent, raw fruit or carrot strips, with an all-cooked meal, a baked pie or pudding with an uncooked one, such as one where a meat salad is the main course.

Provide a sweet with a sour, a bland with a sharp taste, and such. All these things should be considered in meal planning.

If a meal has eye appeal, you have achieved much. Garnishes often do this, as does color contrast, and now and then use the best dishes, even though you haven't company.

And use table decorations often. Flowers, autumn leaves, tastefully arranged bowls of fruit, or polished and washed vegetables. It does make things look, and therefore taste, better.

You can use dried peas and beans, variety meats (liver, heart, etc.) to stretch the meat budget. Bean soup with bits of ham in it makes a good substitute. Fortified margarine can be used in place of butter. Skimmed milk, buttermilk, evaporated and condensed milk, powdered milk and sour milk can be used. Cheese and cottage cheese also.

Your home canned tomato juice can be served instead of orange juice but served double the portion for the same vitamin content.

To extend meat combine it with other foods cereals, vegetables, dried beans, cheese or eggs. Combine left-over meats with spaghetti, noodles or rice, and make them into casserole or creamed left-over dishes.

Save all waste drippings to extend your fats.

Thanks to O'Neill's Alpha—
Wayne, Nebr.

Dear Blanche:

This letter should be entitled friendship as it meant that to us on Sunday, August 16, when we went to Norfolk to pick up Mrs. Grace Lansworth Hammerlin and went to O'Neill to the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Alpha club. Mrs. Hammerlin and myself were members of the club in 1933.

What a wonderful reunion of friends from Omaha, Bassett, Duff, Lynch, Norfolk, Alliance and Wayne.

We met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Sanders. Eighty-three guests were served from a long picnic table with a watermelon dessert by O'Neill club members.

The Alpha club is noted for its hospitality. We went to O'Neill and lived on a ranch north and west of town. We were strangers in a strange land — but not for long — the most wonderful friendship was extended to us through the Alpha club.

At the reunion the most-used phrase was "Do you remember?" It would be followed by telling of the former club activities, and jokes on each other. We congratulate the club on a successful career of 20 years and wish them the same good luck for the next 20.

Thanks, O'Neill Alphas, for a good time.

EWING MARKET REPORT

- At our regular sale this week, we had a nice run of cattle of all classes. The good to choice kinds were a good $1.00 per hundred higher, but the plain and medium kinds were draggy and hard to move. However, they did work out about steady.
- This week we will have a lot of good choice yearlings, and it looks like there will be a lot of buyers on hand for them. If you have some to sell let us know so we can get them in our advertising.
- You furnish the stock, we furnish the buyers. Let us try your next consignment. We try to satisfy everyone. Special calf sale Monday, October 5.
