3d Annual Festival Held at Inman

INMAN—The third annual fall festival of the Methodist church was held Saturday, October 3, with a large crowd in attendance. After weeks of drought, showers fell during the morning and almost brought activities to a close.

The young adult fellowship sponsored the festival, and the proceeds will be used to install a rest room in the Maxey memorial and to insulate the church.

The parade which was one of the highlights of the morning was led by Melvin Michaelis, Inman mayor. The Page high school band, looking snappy in their new uniforms, the O'Neill Saddle club, a good number of floats, saddle ponies, bicycles and obstumped clowns, etc. on foot made up the rest of the parade.

The performance of the Saddle club started out in fine form but after three members fell from their horses the performance was terminated. Luckily no one was critically injured. Foot races, a race of war, and a concert by the Page band completed the morning's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Meier of Norfolk were present for the day's activities, and Mr. Meier conducted several interviews on tape which were played over WJAG Sunday afternoon, October 4. The auction sale in the afternoon had quite good results and a total of about $350 was realized from the many miscellaneous items of garden produce, hay, livestock and household items.

The WSCS held its annual bazaar on Saturday with the fall festival and had a display of needlework in the Maxey addition. The dinner at noon was sponsored by the ladies of the community assisting in the furnishings and serving. A total of about $360 was realized from the bazaar goods, and $220 from the dinner.

Saturday evening a worship service was conducted in the church by the pastor, Rev. Leslie Mewman, and the fruits of the festival were consecrated at the altar.

Engage Lincoln Firm to Appraise

Holt county's board of supervisors, through a recently appointed classification and reappraisal committee, has contracted with a Lincoln firm to set up a complete reappraisal and valuation of all taxable real estate in Holt county.

The Lincoln firm, E. T. Wilkins & associates, will start the job soon and has agreed to have it completed on or before September 30, 1954.

On August 26, the Holt county board of supervisors appointed a Holt county classification and reappraisal committee consisting of Lyle P. Dierks, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association, O'Neill; James W. Rooney, secretary - treasurer of the O'Neill Production Credit association, and Charles E. Chace, Atkinson attorney.

This committee was charged with the responsibility of a complete reappraisal of taxable real estate within the county, and for competent assistance it called for bids from established appraisal firms. The Wilkins firm was low bidder at $38,500. A Des Moines, Ia., firm, the Doane Appraisal company, priced the job at $54,000.

Under the contract with E. T. Wilkins & associates, the firm's appraisers and engineers are to assist the local committee and the county assessor in compiling, gathering and correlating information necessary for the committee to carry out a complete appraisal and evaluation of all taxable real estate, including buildings on leased land, within the bounds of Holt county.

Record cards will be established for each piece of property, and all schedules are to be set up in such a way that the county assessor can at all times explain to the taxpayer just how the valuation of his property was arrived at.

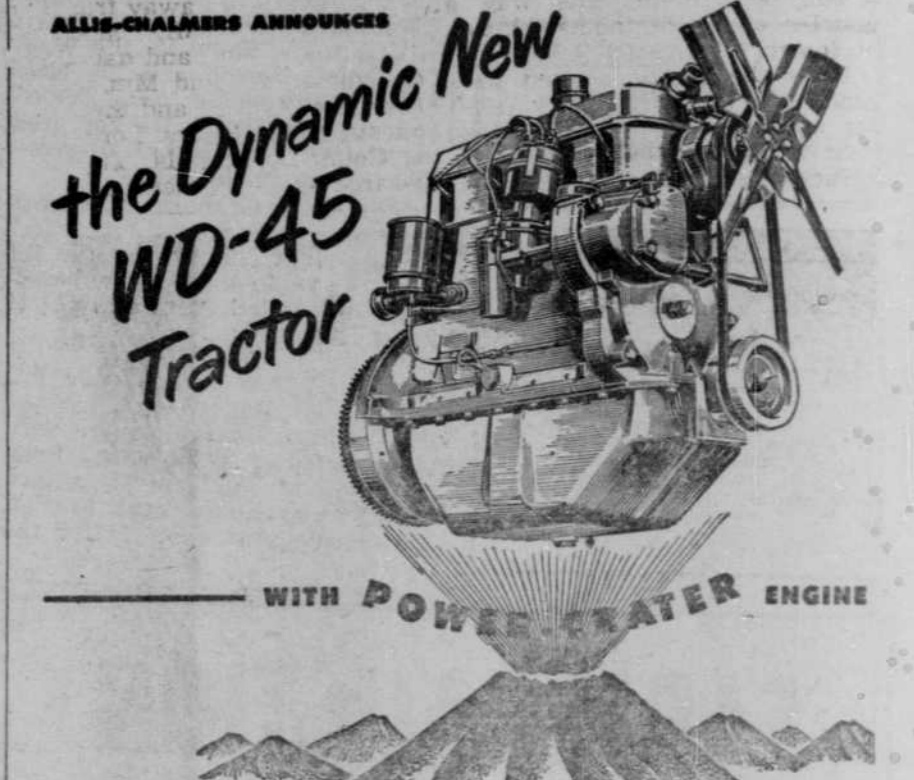

When the reappraisal is finished, there is to be a public hearing to which all taxpayers will be invited to inspect their schedules and compare values, and have the valuations explained.

Select Nation's Outstanding 4-H'ers as Honored Delegates to Club Congress

(Above) Discussion periods are a feature of the Club Congress. All delegates are divided into "huddles" of six, these units reaching an opinion on various "agree-disagree" questions. Then the groups reassemble for final deliberation. Most questions at the 1953 Club Congress likely will concern the theme—"Working Together for World Understanding."

CHICAGO—Special—More than 1,200 outstanding rural youth—mostly farm boys and girls—from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, will be honored delegates to the 32nd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 29-December 3. They are the "cream of the crop" selected by the Extension Service as state, sectional and national winners in the 1953 4-H award programs of projects of agriculture and homemaking.

The youthful delegates will represent more than 2 million active fellow members throughout the United States.

Expenditures of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, a citizens' group, total approximately $900,000 in grants annually to assist the Cooperative Extension Service in furthering the program, membership and influence of 4-H. The major portion of the grants, which are provided by some 40 industrial organizations, foundations and prominent public-spirited men and women, are used for 4-H merit awards, including medals, savings bonds, trips, college scholarships and leader training.

Among the corporations and foundations providing grants are Allis-Chalmers, American Forest Products Industries, Carnation Co., Firestone Tire, Ford Motor Co. and Ford Tractor Division, General Motors, Hercules Powder, International Harvester, Kellogg Co., Kerr Glass, Mathieson Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Nash-Kelvinator, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Simplicity Pattern, Spool Cotton, Standard Brands, United States Rubber, and Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

Cooperation is also provided by the Illinois Central, North Western, Rock Island and Milwaukee Railroads, Proctor Electric Co., Spinnarin Yarn, Toni Co. and Wm. Wrigley, Jr., Co. and Gene Autry.

Oil companies collaborating include American Oil, General Petroleum, Pan-Am Southern, Pure Oil, Standard Oil, Standard Oil (Chicago), Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky), The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Stanolind Oil and Gas, and Utah Oil Refining.

Individual donors include The President of the United States, Mrs. Charles B. Wiegman, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson and Conrad Hilton.

"So fundamental and significant are the accomplishments of the 4-H Clubs that their principles have been accepted and initiated in more than 30 countries around the world," said G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee. "This is a splendid record," he continued, "considering that at the same time there has been consistent growth and a stronger foundation of sturdy citizenship laid at home. In part this accounts for the growing support of 4-H by our agricultural and industrial leaders."
