

O'Donnell-Wadden Rites Solemnized at St. Patrick's

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 10:30 a.m., Saturday, November 14, at St. Patrick's Catholic church in O'Neill when Miss Patricia Ann O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell, 309 W. Jewell st., Salina, Kans., became the bride of John Joseph Wadden, 910 14th st., Beaumont, Tex.

Very Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan, church pastor, officiated before an altar banked in huckleberry trees intermingling with candelabra. Baskets of flowers were placed in front of the altar and the pews were decorated with white satin ribbons and fall flowers. Anthony and Richard Wadden were acolytes.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Wadden, 2309 Summit st., Sioux City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of chantilly lace with a scoop neckline which was outlined with a cutout lace pattern sprinkled with iridescent sequins. The dress had long pointed sleeves, fitted bodice with sequin trim at the waistline and a very full infantia skirt with a cathedral train. Her fingertip illusion veil was worn with a headpiece of matching lace and sequin trim. She carried an orchid in a shower bouquet of white roses on her missal.

Mrs. Robert Berigan sang "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria." Miss Barbara Birmingham sang a duet with Mrs. Berigan. The organist was Sr. M. Flores.

The maid-of-honor was Rita Ann Barry of St. Paul, Minn. Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Cormack of Oak Park, Ill., and Nancy Liebert of Kansas City, Mo. They appeared in off the shoulder ballerina length dresses of emerald green taffeta with headpieces of velvet leaves and slippers to match. They carried cascades of mums in shaded fall colors from gold to rust. The bestman was Daniel Everist of Sioux City. Ushers were Carl Erickson of Beaumont, Tex., and George Cormack of Oak Park, Ill.

Mrs. O'Donnell wore a wood-rose silk taffeta frock with pink orchids and Mrs. Wadden wore a beige wool ensemble with green orchids.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be at home at 910 14th st., Beaumont. A reception was held from 12 to 2 p.m., at the Town House. Mrs. Henry F. Schleuter had charge of the guest book. Those who assisted at the wedding were Mesdames P. B. Harty, H. J. Birmingham, Edward Campbell, William J. Froelich, William Biglin, Edward Gallagher, C. J. Gatz, H. J. Lohaus and Frank Dishner, Miss Bernadette Brennan, Bill Miller and James Merriman. Mrs. F. N. Cronin was in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Wadden was graduated from St. Mary's academy in 1945 and from Rosary college, River Forest, Ill., in 1949.

Mr. Wadden was graduated from a Sioux City high school, attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was graduated from Notre Dame.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Carlin, Mrs. Mort Henkin, Phillip Henkin, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Everist, Richard and Anthony Wadden, Father Kelly, Genevieve Biglin and Miss Nora McAuliffe, all of Sioux City; Mrs. E. J. Lyman of Omaha; Mrs. James F. O'Donnell of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. James Loftus of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell of Omaha; Mrs. Ira George of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rogers, Miss Helen Carlin and Mrs. P. J. Biglin, all of Salina, Kans.

Parents of the bridegroom were hosts at the pre-nuptial dinner Friday evening at the Town House.

Program for Cattle Meeting Outlined

The unicameral legislature, agricultural outlook, practicability of cattle supports, and beef promotion are subjects for discussion at the regional meeting of the Nebraska Stock Growers association to be held at O'Neill Thursday, December 3. Site for the new fall meeting is coincidentally the hometown of Association President D. C. Schaffer. Registration will be prior to 9:30 a.m., when the meeting will be called to order by President Schaffer in the Royal theater at O'Neill.

Following the morning program, all ladies attending will be guests at a luncheon to be held in First Methodist church parlors. The evening banquet at the American Legion auditorium will feature an address by Carl E. Bahmeier, executive secretary of the South Dakota Bankers association. A dance will follow with music by the Aces of Rhythm of Bassett.

Opening the morning speaking program will be Harold F. Beimer, agricultural economic statistician from the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D.C. His address on the "Outlook for '54" will be followed by a discussion on the pro's and con's of the state's unicameral legislature with Stan Matzke of Lincoln, a former member and now news editor, commentator and agricultural analyst for radio stations KRVN and KOIL.

Leading off the 2 p.m., session will be Dan Hanson of Hat Creek, Wyo., rancher, who will present his conclusions on the practicability of price supports on livestock. Erich Rohling from the staff of the American Meat Institute at Chicago, Ill., will round out the afternoon speaking with a discussion on the advertising and promotion of beef.

In announcing the completed program for the meeting, Mr. Schaffer said he is eager for as many cattlemen and their wives as possible to take advantage of hearing these discussions on down-to-earth problems of the industry.

"If you want to stay overnight in O'Neill, please make your wishes known to H. J. Lohaus, general chairman of the O'Neill committee," he advises.

CELIA—"Vast improvement in general economic and living" conditions was noted in Germany by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Terwilliger, Celia ranch couple who returned late Saturday, November 14, from their second European visit since the end of World War II.

Entire new towns are being developed and elaborate housing and commercial building projects are underway in West Germany, the Terwilligers say. Most of this boom is induced by American money, which, the Terwilligers understand, is made available at only one percent interest with 30 years to pay.

The Terwilligers managed to see many sights they had missed on their earlier trip when post-war recovery was not as far along. They visited the Low Countries and also part of France.

The Holt pair reached New York City at 3:30 p.m., on Thursday, were cleared by customs at 9 o'clock that evening, and the following night they reached Omaha. They had been gone two months.

The Terwilligers long will remember an incident that took place aboard ship while enroute back to the U.S. News of the November 7 birth of a grandson, James Lee, born to Mr. and Mrs. Perry Terwilliger of Atkinson, was sent by air mail to a coast guard vessel, which relayed the letter to the Terwilligers' ship. The word came while the Terwilligers and and Mrs. Frank Hanson of Hat Creek. His mother is the former Miss Kathryn Burk, a sister of Mrs. D. Stannard O'Neill. The family resided for a time south of O'Neill on a homestead.

aboard ship friends were enjoying their breakfast.

The Terwilligers said the letter had been stamped and handled by numerous officials in its unique, round-about trip. The letter already has found its way to James Lee's baby book, where it will be preserved.

During their stay abroad the Terwilligers managed to contact numerous relatives.

Simon Bosn Retires from C&NW Railroad

Equally welcomed was a congratulatory message from 39 C&NW employees up-and-down the main line—delivered in person. The card was signed by men and women employees of the roadmaster's division, including maintenance employees between Fremont and Long Pine on the mainline and also Albion branch line employees.

The rail crowd surprised Mr. Bosn by gathering at his home Tuesday evening. It was a houseful—but was a fitting termination for Mr. Bosn's long service to the railroad company. The honoree was presented with a purse.

Of Mr. Bosn's four sons, none has been beckoned by railroad.

In looking back over these past 43 years, Mr. Bosn points out many changes that have taken place. The diesel-powered locomotives which have come into their own during the past years have been the major change.

"These diesels are here to stay," declares Mr. Bosn, jokingly. Although inwardly he regrets seeing the colorful steam locomotives become relegated to the junk heap, he points out the diesels are moving longer trains faster and cheaper and it's inevitable that the old steamers be retired.

"When the road bed is in good shape the diesels aren't as hard on the road bed as the steam locomotives. The power is more even and better distributed on the driving wheels than on a steamer. But when the road bed gets a little under par," says Mr. Bosn, "those diesels create a lot of work for our section crews."

Mr. Bosn can look back on 43 accident-free years as a foreman. His successor is D. L. Bohn of Inman.
