Tips for Cleaning Leather Goods

Don't look now but that's February peeking over our shoulders! Don't ask me where January went, it slid by while I was looking the other way!

Keep your car openers clean. Wash with soap and hot water after each use — and we mean really hot water. Food left on the blade may spoil, contaminating food as other cans are opened.

For the cutting wheel type, such as on the wall, or hand model, use a soapy brush on the cutting edge. Every now and then, treat this type to a quick sink soaping without soaking. Oil the mechanism at intervals.

Speaking of cleanliness, do you keep your handbags looking trim? Brush them inside and out before washing and stuff with tissue paper to preserve their shape and prevent water from seeping in.

Use "dry" soapsuds on leather, patent leather, plastic and straw. Apply a soapy sponge to one section at a time, then wipe with an almost dry rinse cloth. Use cream polish on leather afterward, if desired.

And while we're talking about cleanliness and washing, we might discuss costume jewelry. It does get dirty, you know. Suds renew the sparkle of plastic and enamel costume jewelry.

Use a soapy soft brush to get into carving, corners and crevices. Work quickly to avoid loosening cemented settings. Rinse and dry in a towel.

Pearls can be washed, too. Carefully work in warm soapsuds around the pearls and into the cord, using a soft brush.

Rinse, brushing clean water into drill holes and cord knots. Pat dry with a soft clean towel. Store pearls on soft fabric apart from rough surface or other jewelry which might cause scratches.

To get the most light for your money, wash electric light bulbs and fixtures often. Remove bulbs from the socket and wash the glass but not the metal screw. Dry before replacing.

Cords get dirty, too. BUT RESIST THE DISCONNECT! Before you draw them taut through a well soaped cloth or sponge. Wipe and allow to dry completely before use.

Parchment shades can be washed with dry soapsuds on a cloth or sponge, working fast and working parallel to the edges. Rinse with a clean, damp cloth and wipe dry.

Fabric shades can be washed by removing any metallic ornaments and sewing on any glued trimmings or finishes. Then plunge through a deep tubful of warm suds, repeat in clean suds, if necessary. Use a soaped sponge or a soft brush on spots. Rinse in clean water or use a spray. Wipe with a towel and dry in a current of air or near an electric fan.

— tfw — 'Atkinson Friend' Wins Subscription— Dear Blanche:

Now that the holidays are over maybe I can get in the swing of writing letters again. We do love to receive letters so that means I must keep writing, too.

We all rated well at Christmas and everyone was well pleased. That always makes a deep feeling good. One of our gifts was one of those new toasters. The bread goes down and comes back up automatically, when ready. What a joy to make toast now compared to the little flip type which we had been using all these years, for it had to be watched so closely.

This is Saturday evening and we are at home. It always seems so much longer to us than any other night in the week. Wonder if anyone else has that same feeling? We usually go to town to do our trading but today was so cold that we decided it was best to go in the afternoon.

I'll end this with a cranberry salad that really suits our taste as we never cared for the ground orange and apple mixture.

First grind one pound cranberries which have been washed thoroughly. Mix this with one cup sugar and one cup well drained crushed pineapple. Let these ingredients stand overnight in a cold place. In the morning, add 15 to 20 marshmallows cut up in small pieces, then fold in one cup cream, which has been whipped. You can also add 1/2 cup diced celery, if you care for it. I leave it out for us.

I keep in the refrigerator until ready to use, then sprinkle generously with English walnut meats.

SAYS SANDHILL SAL

It's a long road that has no hill in it. As long you go through life you have to expect a few bumps in the road.

Life may be just a bowl of sour cherries, but sweetened up a little they make an awfully good pie. Bachelors Bill says he is not so concerned that ladies' nylons should be very sheer—but he is sheely concerned that they be well filled.

Cpl. Wagner . . . to return to U.S. in April.

'Wouldn't Trade OD's for Navy Dungerees'

Army Cpl. Floyd Wagner, son of Mrs. Winnie Wagner of O'Neill, presently is stationed with the Third army division in Korea. He has been in the service 1 1/2 years and has spent 11 months in the Far East.

Corporal Wagner forwarded to The Frontier the following light-hearted ditty which is entitled "The Dogface Soldier in Korea." I wouldn't give a bean

To be a fancy pants marine, I'd rather be a dogface soldier like I am.

I wouldn't trade my old OD's For all the navy's dungerees, For I'm the walking pride of Uncle Sam.

On all the posters that you read It says that the army builds men, So they're tearing me down To build me over again. I'm just a dogfaced soldier With a rifle on my shoulder, And I eat a bit for breakfast every day.

So feed me ammunition, Keep me in the Third division— Your dogfaced soldier boy's OK.

Autos Must Show '54 Plates Feb. 14

The 1954 license plates must be displayed on all motor vehicles by midnight, February 14, 1954, or be subject to the penalty provided by law.

Since there has been much controversy as to whether or not turn signals are required on all motor vehicles, Owen J. Boyles, assistant director of the Nebraska motor vehicles division, wishes to advise that on all vehicles manufactured on and after January 1, 1954, and sold into Nebraska, it is necessary that they be equipped with automatic turn signals. Also, for vehicles manufactured before that date which are so constructed or loaded that a hand or arm signal would not be visible both to the front and the rear of such vehicle must be equipped with automatic turn signals.
