Lemons Make Even Diets Taste Good

If your problem is the budget, or someone on a salt-free diet, fresh lemons can solve both at once! Fresh lemon juice now rates high as an all-purpose seasoning, salt or no salt. Virtually salt-free, lemons wonder to bring out the flavor of most foods—even the humble hamburger. When you use a thrifty recipe like this one, you don't need to cook a special dish for the dieter—it's delicious for the whole family.

Lemon is a sauce in itself and supplies a tang that will be appreciated, diet or not. With a plate of lemon wedges on the table, you don't need other seasonings. For a tasty, nutritious meal serve these flavorful, tender beef patties with potatoes boiled in their jackets:

Broiled Hamburger Patties (Low-salt Diets)

- 1/4 cup low-sodium bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 pound ground beef
- sweet butter (about 2 tablespoons)

Moisten low sodium bread crumbs with lemon juice. Add with onion and pepper to ground beef and mix well. Form into patties and brush with sweet butter before placing under broiler. Broil approximately 5 to 6 minutes. Turn, brush with sweet butter and broil until done. Makes 6 medium sized patties.

Weather Clear TRACK FAST Fatal!

When racing drivers are out for new speed records, they pray for a clear, fast track.

But those same conditions on the nation's highways produce different records—deadly records! Last year 80 per cent of fatal accidents, 26,280 occurred in clear weather on straight, dry roads. Only one answer—too much speed, too little control.

Highways are not raceways, but every road has its dread quota of "race track fringe" drivers. One highway safety authority says: "It is not a question of what is a safe speed—now it is what is a 'survival speed' for the average driver? It isn't up in the 65 miles an hour and plus range, where sustained momentum hypnotizes the senses, where impact is deadly. Now we must slow down to live!"

In the last four years average speeds have been creeping up until more than half of all rural driving, passenger cars and buses, are now exceeding fifty miles per hour with many of them doing well over sixty.

This high speed hysteria must be tamed. It has become a national emergency to be met by indignant public demand for more and stricter law enforcement. Let's stop this losing race with Death!
