Oh Dear, School in Another Month!

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

August already! Oh dear, and school will be starting in another month. It was spring only yesterday. Where does the time go? You're busier than a kid with two ice cream cones and none of the days are long enough, although they're certainly warm enough.

To help you save time, cook a kettle of spuds with the jackets on and serve some rice for lunch. Rice them in their jackets—the jackets will stay in the rice and potatoes go through.

After lunch, peel the spuds left and refrigerate. You can use some for potato salad, some for hashed brown potatoes and some for a casserole with cheese and white sauce, heating them through thoroughly.

Make a double-size gelatin salad and refrigerate and serve half of the gelatin salad for a later meal, saving the time to make another. Make enough steamed tea to last a couple of days. It won't be quite so sparkling but it will taste as good and save time that way.

Use aluminum tea balls to save scooping out tea leaves, and besides, bulk tea is cheaper than tea bags.

Bake a double batch of bread and freeze half of it, ditto for rolls. Or maybe you were smart enough to bake bread, rolls, cakes and cookies ahead when it was still cool and are now reaping the harvest of your energy.

expended when it wasn't so hot. Now is the time, too, to use some of those frozen meals. And to utilize cold cuts, cheeses and quickly prepared meats like Bologna, wieners, franks and such. Eggs are so cheap, so don't forget them served in the various ways you can use them cool.

"Mrs. H. K." of O'Neill Wins Subscription—

Dear Mrs. Pease: As I tried this meat pie this week and we liked it pretty well, I thought others might, too. It is a meal with green salad and a dessert.

MEAT PIES IN POTATO CRUSTS

Make an individual pie of potatoes and meat for each person to be served. Then watch the smiles of approval.

Four medium sized potatoes (diced), one medium onion (finely chopped), four tablespoons non-fat dry milk, one teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, one egg, one pound ground beef, 1/3 cup dry milk, 1/4 cup chili sauce (omit it), 1/2 teaspoon pepper, one egg.

Cook potatoes and onions together until tender. Drain, mash, stir in four tablespoons dry milk and salt and beat well. Divide potato mixture into fourths and spread each in six-inch pie plate.

Combine the remaining ingredients and blend together thoroughly. Fill each potato-lined pie plate with one-fourth of beef mixture. Bake 25 to 30 minutes in 320 F. oven. Garnish with onion rings and parsley.

Here's something good for dessert:

FROZEN LEMON CEREAL PIE

Cereal Crust: 2 1/2 cups corn flakes or whole wheat flakes (finely crushed after measuring), 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Add melted butter to cereal flakes and mix thoroughly. Reserve 1/2 to 1/3 cup for top and with remainder line bottom and sides of a shallow refrigerator tray, pressing firmly.

Filling: Three eggs (separated), 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup lemon juice, three teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 1/4 cups whipping cream.

Beat the egg yolks slightly and add sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind. Cook over boiling water until mixture thickens, about five to seven minutes, stirring constantly. Chill. Beat egg whites until they stand in peaks and fold into lemon mixture. Then fold in stiffly beaten whipped cream. Pour into lined tray and sprinkle with remaining crumbs.

Freeze until firm with controls at coldest setting. Cut into triangles. Yield: Six to eight servings.

SAYS SANDHILL SAL

The philosophers tell you to work off the frustrations of the day by working with garden or flowers. But nobody says how to beat off the frustration of never being quite able to keep the weeds out of things that grow!

If your husband is a hard-boiled egg, maybe you keep him in too much hot water.
