Observers believe that Mr. Curtis' long experience in Congress, his work on lowering taxes, and his ceaseless fight for fair treatment for agriculture are the basis of Mr. Curtis' strong state-wide popularity.

Consumers Marks
15th Anniversary

Today (Thursday) marks the 15th anniversary of Consumers Public Power district which provides electric service for 355 Nebraska communities and some 4,000 farms.
Significant of this anniversary is the fact that direct benefits to Nebraskans served by the district have amounted to $52,899,188 during the first 15 years, considerably more than the total original cost of the system.
These benefits were listed by officials of Consumers Public Power district as $16,541,584 in savings to electric customers as a result of rate reductions; $14,595,000 of bonds retired from earnings to pay for the system, and additions to the system of $21,762,604 which have been paid for out of earnings to increase and expand service facilities.
It is also interesting to note that during these 15 years, users of electricity have constantly increased their consumption of electricity on the farm, in the home and in industry so that the average annual residential KWH consumption has jumped from 746 KWH per customer in 1939 to 2,226 KWH per customer at the beginning of 1954.
During this same period, while other costs have skyrocketed, the cost of electricity for residential use has dropped from an average of 4.71c per KWH in 1939 to an average of 2.78c per KWH in 1954.
While constantly building and expanding its facilities to provide additional benefits for its users, Consumers has enabled many communities to enjoy new and valuable industrial progress and community development, since its interconnected statewide system makes available an adequate supply of low cost, dependable power for any community, large or small, on its system.
Noteworthy of this development are the many new modern
