MANAGEMENT AND LABOR JOIN IN STUDEBAKER AGREEMENT

South Bend, Ind.—Signing of an agreement between The Studebaker Corporation and the bargaining committee of Local 5, UAW-CIO brought to a conclusion weeks of conferences between management and labor in which new and competitive wage rates were worked out for more than 10,000 Studebaker employees. The new rates, while somewhat lower, are still the highest paid in the industry. The company hailed the agreement as a "further demonstration of the teamwork between Studebaker workers and management that has existed for more than 102 years—a unique spirit of cooperation that has been in many ways Studebaker's greatest asset, resulting as it has in the superior craftsmanship and quality for which the company has been known." Shown signing the agreement, after it was ratified by an overwhelming majority of members of the local, are (seated, left to right) H. S. Vance, Studebaker president; Louis J. Horvath, president of Local 5; Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board of Studebaker. Behind Horvath is Paul M. Clark, vice president in charge of industrial relations. J. D. (Red) Hill, (behind Vance) international representative to Local 5, and Forest Hanna, (white shirt) vice president of Local 5, observe the signing of the agreement, along with members of the union's negotiating committee.
