Patty Lofquest, 3, Found Napping by Group of Searchers

RIVERSIDE — Patty Lofquest, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lofquest of this community, was the object of a widespread search conducted Wednesday, August 25, by her parents and the neighbors.

While a number of women were cleaning the Riverside school, little Patty decided it was time for a nap. Later, when she couldn't be located by her mother, who had taken part in the school cleanup, a searching party was pressed into service.

Finally, Patty was found at a neighbor's house sleeping comfortably, thank-you, under a pile of freshly laundered clothes which had been piled on a bed.

She was warm and perspiring, but unmindful of the fuss her wandering had created.

Mrs. James Cronk and sons left for their home in Caldwell, Ida., Monday, August 23, after visiting relatives and friends here and in Page. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Donohoe and family.

Golden Gets Heat but Doesn't Yield
Grady Presses Champ to 18th Hole

M. J. ("Max") Golden, manager of the Golden hotel and the perennial winner of the O'Neill city golf title, once more captured top honors; defeating J. B. ("Ben") Grady, one-up, in the championship flight finals. The title match was played Sunday.

Golden was in front two-up after nine holes and Grady evened matters midway in the second round. It wasn't until after both had made their approaches on the 18th that Grady conceded to the hard-to-dislodge Golden.

H. J. Lohaus bested Tom Liddy in the championship flight consolation finals.

First flight: O. D. French won over Paul Walker, one-up; Gordon Drayton and James Clifton, both of Orchard, still are tied for consolation laurels after playing 25 holes.
