Aged Woman Hit. Killed by Train

Mrs. Mueller Fails to Heed Warning

CLEARWATER- Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m., Monday, September 6, from the for Mrs. Anna Mueller, 78, longtime resident of this community. was instantly killed about 9:45 a.m., Saturday, September 4, when struck by a train locomotive at Clearwater. Mrs. Mueller was crossing the tracks on her way to her home in the north part of town, where she lived alone. Trainmen said they warned her for a quarter of a mile, but, apparently, the aged woman did not hear the signal or became confused.

The engine on the special train was traveling west and carried only a caboose.

Witnesses said if Mrs. Mueller had taken one more step the engine would have missed her. The late Mrs. Mueller's vision had been impaired a number of years by cataracts, friends said. It is not known whether she had defective hearing. A state highway patrolman, the Antelope county sheriff and Antelope county attorney in-

Rev. Eldon Marten officiated at the funeral and burial was in the Lutheran cemetery south of Clearwater. Mrs. Mueller's husband, Charles, died about seven years ago. He was a retired farmer. The Muellers formerly resided in the Deloit community on a farm situated across the road from the St. John's church. She owned the farm at the time of her death. Her survivors include two sons Louis of Platte Center and John of Clearwater,
