Schoolday Routine Resumed

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Fall days are with us once again. Most of the kids have been back in school for two weeks and life is beginning to resume its school day routine.

You can save part of the early morning rush if you'll set the table for breakfast the night before. It will make breakfast easier to get if you don't have to rush hither and yon to get things done.

You'll also find it will save time if you put clean hankies in the pockets of school girl frocks and school boy trousers and have the children assemble them before going to bed. If any last minute repair work on clothing has to be done, discover it the evening before and not when the children are dressing for school.

If the children carry school lunches and you have a home freezer or an adequate freezer in your refrigerator, you can prepare and freeze ahead of time sandwiches to send for the school lunch. All breads freeze well and if spread with butter, fillings won't soak. Most fillings freeze well with the exception of egg salad, jelly, lettuce and tomato. These won't. Frozen sandwiches can be stored for two to three weeks and you can freeze and store cookies, cakes, some desserts and such for the school lunch box. Most sandwiches thaw in three to four hours and are just right for eating when just thawed. If you'll prepare and freeze these things ahead, they'll take some of the rush out of your mornings before school.

Now is a good time to re-establish the family's good breakfast habit. Remember, breakfast is the first nourishment the body receives after a period of 12 to 15 hours fasting. You need a good breakfast to keep you going until noon. During summer, children may have depended on snacking between meals, too. So now it is especially important that they eat a breakfast hearty enough to sustain them until lunch.

It's wise to have the family eat breakfast together, instead of in shifts. This in itself is an incentive for regular attendance at the morning meal. A good breakfast pattern includes fruit or juice, enriched, restored or whole grain cereal or bread and milk. Vary with an egg and breakfast meat as often as possible.

Bring variety into your breakfast menus by serving different kinds of toasts and hot breads. Serve fruits in season. Frozen fruit juice concentrates are helpful, too, in introducing variety.

Paraffin on Snow Shovel.
Says "Constant Reader"—
Dear Mrs. Pease:
It has been quite some time since I have written to your column. I have been very busy with the garden and household duties. It has been so dry, keeps one busy watering. I canned the first string beans before the Fourth of July.

A good substitute for whipped cream is to crush and beat one banana and one egg white together. Add sugar desired.

This is out of season but I shall send it, too. Brush melted paraffin wax on your snow shovel—snow will not stick to the shovel. Add a pinch of salt to your coffee—gives a much better flavor.

GINGER SNAPS
Take one cup sugar, one cup molasses, one cup butter or lard, one teaspoon soda dissolved in 1/2 cup warm water, two teaspoons ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, flour enough to make a stiff dough.

Roll and bake in a moderate oven.

This Is the Season to Try—
GREEN TOMATO PIE
Six to eight medium sized tomatoes, two tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon or orange rind, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 3/4 cup sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch, one tablespoon table fat, pastry.

Wash, remove stem ends and slice the tomatoes. Combine with lemon juice, lemon or orange rind, salt and cinnamon. Cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Mix sugar and cornstarch, add to tomato mixture and cook until clear, stirring constantly. Add fat. Cool slightly, then pour into a nine-inch pie plate lined with pastry. Cover with pastry and seal edges. Bake in a hot oven of 450 F. 40 to 50 minutes.
