Helps Build Koean School

STUART—Cpl. Fred R. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Mitchell, writes home about the dedication of a school the GI's helped build in Korea. The letter in part follows:

"We worked on the school-house all week. There is only about one more day of it. We have to put another layer of tarpaper on the roof and move the equipment out of the tents where they are holding school now over to the new one. It was dedicated today — Sunday, September 12. There was quite an attendance—about 150 kids who are going to go to the school, the teachers and some of the Korean parents.

"The group commander and two other colonels, our battery officers, the guys that built the school and about 20 others from the battery were there.

"The Koreans gave the battery commander a smoking set and the rest of us, who built the school, a handkerchief apiece.

"The kids sang some songs and they had an inspection tour of the school.

"The officers congratulated us on the good job we did.

"I really enjoyed working down there as we know it is going to do somebody some good, not like working around the battery here just for something to do."

Corporal Mitchell was inducted into the army March 9, 1953, received his basic training at Ft. Sill, Okla. He arrived in Korea September 5, 1953, where he was assigned to First field artillery observation battalion near the 38th parallel.

Gets Promotion to Corporal
Francis A. Murray, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murray, live in O'Neill, was recently promoted to corporal while serving with the 24th infantry division in Korea.

The "Victory" division first landed in Korea in July, 1950, and spent 19 months in combat before going to Japan for security duty. It returned to the peninsula shortly before the cease fire.

Corporal Murray, a member of the First field observation battalion's battery B, entered the army in April, 1953, and arrived in Korea last November.
