AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT . . .

Every year Americans live better because electricity costs so little

These 30 everyday General Electric appliances lined up on the front lawn dramatize the impact of low-cost electricity on American life. Per capita use of electricity in U.S. is 2 times Britain's, 5 times Russia's, 167 times India's.

An average U. S. family uses enough power each day to equal the energy output of 35 hard-working men

Nowhere on earth has electricity been put to work more widely than in the United States, and its price been kept so low.

We've come a long way since Thomas Edison invented the first home use of electricity — an electric light — just 75 years ago. There are three reasons for this progress.

First, America's electric utilities have invested in facilities ($18 billion in the last ten years!). And the electrical industry has steadily increased the efficiency of power equipment. Turbine-generators made by General Electric, for example, produce 10 times more electricity per pound of coal than Edison's original generators.

Second, appliances have been constantly improved and are mass-produced to bring their price within reach of everyone. The first 60-watt lamps cost about $1.00 and gave a light equal to 7 candles; a G-E 60-watt lamp today gives a light equal to 67 candles, and costs only 19 cents.

The third reason for progress is our free economy, which has allowed industry to grow, create jobs and produce effectively for everyone's benefit. As we see it, it adds up to a good example of progress in the American way.

Meanwhile, we're hard at work to make the future even better.

"OLD RELIABLE" SALE REPORT

Atkinson Livestock Market
Tuesday, Nov. 16, Auction

Cattle receipts totaled nearly 3,000 head of which over 60 percent were calves. An overflow crowd of eager buyers made for a strong to higher market. Although no new tops were made, the general average of prices was the best for the season. Many good-to-choice steer calves brought 22.50 to 24.00. Heifer mates at 18.00 to 19.50. All classes of calves, strong to 50 cents higher.

Feeder cows took on a little life with several buyers in the market for cornfield cows. All classes 30 cents and more higher. Both yearling and 2-year-old steers were scarce. Market on these firm at the recent advance, quotable at 19.00 to 21.00 for good and choice kinds.

Next auction Tuesday, November 23. Demand for cattle continues broad. Listings for next week indicate another large offering. Buyers will be here. Better bring yours in.
