Plastic Helps Preserve Pictures

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

Have you invited guests for Thanksgiving? If so, you'll want to enjoy your guests, the dinner and the day, so get everything done before hand that you possibly can.

In this day of refrigerators, deep freezes and such, it is possible to do so much of the preparation long enough before hand so that you, too, will enjoy yourself.

For instance, your turkey may be purchased and dressed and frozen before hand. But you'll want to take it from the freezer the day before so that it is thoroughly thawed out.

If you're serving a gelatin salad, it can be made before hand. If it's the green tossed type, the greens can be washed and put into the crisper ready for the last-minute tossing and for the dressing you prefer.

Celery can be cleaned and crisped the day before and kept in the crisper or in plastic bags.

Many types of dessert can be made and frozen before hand, or at least baked the day before. You can use the ice box type rolls, mixing the dough before hand, or use the brown 'n' serve type. Or many ready-baked rolls can be simply warmed in the oven.

en before serving—and that includes baked rolls from your freezer.

Most vegetables can be prepared before hand, some can even be cooked. It all depends on what type you're going to serve.

But whatever you plan for your menu, be sure to do all possible things on preceding days and that includes getting your home set to rights as much as possible.

Just remember that the one thing you don't want to do the day before hand is stuff the turkey. That isn't considered safe. Be sure to allow plenty of time for getting the turkey done.

'Cocoanut Fudge Balls' Ideal for Holidays
— Spencer, Nebr.

Dear Mrs. Pease: Have been going to write to you for some time but, as usual, it has been "Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow" and you know tomorrow never comes.

This has been a good year here for our gardens and field crops for which I, for one, feel deeply grateful to the Lord. It could easily have been so different.

Since school is in session again I thought perhaps the school teachers, Sunday-school teachers and mothers might all make use of an idea which I used this summer.

I used transparent plastic paper (saran wrap) purchased at the grocery store to cover pictures for my children. Cut the plastic paper one or more inches larger than the picture to be covered.

Use a very stiff cardboard for the back of the picture. Stretch the plastic paper tightly but smoothly over the picture and secure the edges to the back with Scotch tape. Paste a picture tab in place and you have a very neat picture which looks like it is under glass.

Since we will soon be making cookies and other goodies for the winter holidays, I will send a recipe for cocoanut fudge balls which we think make for good nibbling:

COCOANUT FUDGE BALLS
Cream 1/2 cup softened butter and add one cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt, beating well. Add two ounces melted chocolate, mixing well. Add 1/4 cup milk and 1 1/2 cups sifted flour alternately. Stir in 1 3/4 cups rolled oats. Form dough into small balls and bake on an ungreased baking sheet at 350 F. 10 to 12 minutes. Makes six dozen cookies.

To frost, blend 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar with 1/4 cup of milk and 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract. Dip the cooled cookies into frosting using two forks. Then roll in cocoanut. Place on waxed paper to set.

FROZEN PINEAPPLE SALAD
Two cups sour cream, one tablespoon lemon juice, 3/4 cup sugar, one cup drained, sweetened, crushed pineapple, 1/4 cup chopped marshmallows, cherries, lettuce or other greens.
Mix sour cream, lemon juice and sugar. Fold in pineapple and cherries. Pour into freezing tray of refrigerator. Freeze using directions for your refrigerator. Cut into squares. Serve on lettuce or other greens. Serves six.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bourne

Miss Elaine Babutzke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Babutzke of O'Neill, and Paul Bourne of O'Neill, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bourne of Atkinson, were married Saturday, November 6, in St. Patrick's Catholic church. The couple will reside in O'Neill where Mr. Bourne is employed by the Lohaus Motor Co.—O'Neill Photo Co.

Parking Enforcement, Curfew Are Suggested

ATKINSON — The Atkinson Country Women's club met with Mrs. Orville Siebert last Thursday afternoon, November 11. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Robert Martens and Mrs. Paul Roth. Seventeen members and five visitors were present. Visitors were Mrs. Gene Livingston, Mrs. Vernon Siebert, Mrs. Carl Gettert, Mrs. Lorne Hickok and Mrs. Ralph Schrank.

A letter was read from the Nebraska Childrens home, Omaha, thanking the club for one hundred quarts of food sent. Roll call was "Name Your Favorite Magazine," or "Tell of an Interesting Article which You Have Read Recently."

The sponsor had members tell of an improvement which would make Atkinson a better town in which to live. Suggestions included: Supervised recreation for young folks; trim trees so limbs don't knock one's hat off; remove bench sitters; add rest room; fix sidewalks; enforce car parking regulations and also curfew; erect spotlight in square; better cooperation between town and country.

Next meeting will be the Christmas party with Mrs. Herman Meyers December 9.

Stout Replaces Reynolds at Hartington

Charles R. Stout of Neligh has been named as the new Hartington sub-district superintendent for Consumers Public Power district, according to an announcement made by C. E. A. Johnson, O'Neill district manager for Consumers. Mr. Stout replaces Dale R. Reynolds, who has been transferred to Scottsbluff. The change became effective November 1.

Mr. Stout for the last six years has served as Consumers' sub-district superintendent of Neligh.

ONEILL LOCALS
Mrs. W. J. Froelich returned Sunday to Chicago, Ill., with Mr. Froelich, who had been here visiting his family for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Froelich and Frank Kerwin of Audubon, Ia., visited last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Froelich's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wanser and family, in Hartington.

THANKS FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

Thanks to the voters who supported me in the close race for representative of the 28th legislative district. Though insufficient in quantity your many votes were appreciated.

Anna Wilkinson Dies in Washington

CHAMBERS—Anna May Gaskill Wilkinson, a resident of route 2, Sedro Woolley, Wash., for 16 years, died at Memorial hospital on Tuesday, October 19, in Sedro Woolley.

She was born April 12, 1879, in Butler county, Nebraska, and was married to Ernest Wilkinson at Valentine, September 20, 1911. They moved south of Chambers in 1928 and lived there until they moved to Sedro Woolley in 1938.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, October 23, at 2 p.m. Interment was in the Sedro Woolley cemetery.

Survivors were Oscar Greenstreet, Otto Greenstreet, Lewis Klingler, Don Remington, Mervin Carpenter and Jack Elliot.

Mrs. Wilkinson is survived by her husband, Ernest Wilkinson; Mrs. Stanley Kutcher of Sedro Woolley and Mrs. Almond Jenkins of Seattle, Wash.; grandchildren—Phyllis Kutcher and Janis Jenkins.

Attending the services from a distance were Mrs. Irene Kime of Valentine, sister of Mr. Wilkinson; Mrs. Olga Malone and Mrs. Lydia Sands of Sand Point, Ida.; Jack Kilmer of Spokane, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Hoerle, Mrs. Harold Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bartinek, Mrs. Claire Hubel, all of Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rus of Ferndale, Wash.

Ensign Nielsen at Portsmouth Hospital—
Serving at the U.S. naval hospital at Portsmouth, Va., is Wave Ens. Delores L. Nielsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Nielsen of Inman.

Before entering the navy in September of this year, Ensign Nielsen graduated from Nebraska Methodist school of nursing in Omaha.

The hospital is the navy's oldest. Originally commissioned in 1830, the Portsmouth naval hospital has cared for wounded in every war since that time.

During the Civil war, the hospital was captured by the Southern forces, but was retaken by the Union army and returned to the navy.

Seaman Aboard USS Toledo in Far East—
Donald R. Seaman, boilerman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seaman of Chambers, and husband of Mrs. Janita J. Seaman of Kilgore, is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Toledo in the Far East.

Last month the Toledo celebrated her eighth anniversary, the seventh overseas.

Commissioned on navy day, October 27, 1946, the Toledo missed seeing action in World War II, but has compiled four tours of Korean duty.

Colorado Trip—
John Gilstrap took his mother, Mrs. Helen Gilstrap, to her home in Glenwood Springs, Colo., by auto Wednesday, November 10. She had been visiting here since Saturday, November 6.

The Misses Grace and Agnes Joyce of Omaha arrived Saturday and will visit relatives and friends in O'Neill for several days.
