Tips on Improving RFD Boxes

The week beginning with Monday, May 16, has been designated officially and permanently by the post office department as rural mailbox improvement week. In continuation of the valuable work in previous seasons to repair or improve the rural mailboxes of the nation, a vigorous campaign will be launched again this spring to carry on this worthwhile project.

Here are a few pointers for RMI week:

See that posts are securely erected—are not leaning badly-and that box is fastened

Replace obsolete box if it is hard to get mail into it, or if is hard to see into for letters that you want mailed.

Name should be painted on side of box which carrier approaches (or can be on front of box if several boxes are closely grouped to-

It is a big help if several boxes are neatly and closely placed on a plank extending between two posts.

Bottom of box should be 42 inches above roadway, and should be on an arm extending out away from the post, in such a manner that it can be easily reached, with all ob-

ALLIANCE - Hundreds of livestock raisers and their wives were to funnel into this sandhills town late Wednesday and early today (Thursday). Members and guests of the Sandhills Cattle association are assembling in Alliance on Thursday and Friday, May 19 and 20 for the 16th annual convention, according to Ralph Baker of Valentine, association president.

This afternoon (Thursday) has been set aside for committee meetings and to be climaxed by the association banquet at the Alliance city auditorium. Rev. Adrain Edgar, minister of the First Methodist church at Norfolk, will be the featured speaker. Gov. Victor Anderson will also be on hand to make remarks. Principal speakers on the Friday program are Byron Lopp and Jack Miller. Lopp, publicity di-rector for Central Bank & Trust company of Denver, Colo., will speak on public relations and the human side of selling, while Miller, tax consultant from Sioux City, will talk on the subject of "Tax Tips for Cattlenmen".

Panel members to appear on the program are Harry B. Cofree, president, Union Stack Yards company of Omaha, moderator, with panel members C. O. Emrich of Norfolk, past president, National Livestock Auction association; Hans Jaggers, Alliance rancher; Ed Hollenback of Dixon, Ill., president, Corn Belt Feeders association, and Carl Wiese, rancher, order buyer and owneroperator of the Thedford Livestock Commission company.

The annual business meeting has been scheduled for the Friday afternoon session. Baker pointed out that all ranchers and feeders are invited to attend.
