Knox Man, 75, Produces Quilts

Given to Infants Born Feb. 8

By MRS. R. J. HERING
Special Correspondent

ROYAL—Elmer E. Haskins, who was 75-years-old on February 8, has added a third hospital to his list. During an interview, Mr. Haskins said, "I took one of my baby quilts to Neligh to Antelope Memorial hospital the other day and I showed it to a Sister. I told her that I will give every baby born on February 8, one of my quilts."

The Sister said, "we'll remember that, and we assure you we'll be very happy to accept your gift."

Mr. Haskins stated he has been piecing quilts for the past four years, following the death of his wife. He said, "I was very lonely and I had to have something to do to occupy my time when not outside working."

Asked when he learned to piece quilts, he replied, "I learned when I was a little boy. I used watch my mother and she showed me how to go about it."

Mr. Haskins makes his quilts crib size. He buys approximately four dollars worth of material for each quilt. He designed the pattern, a letter "H" for Haskins. He lines each quilt with a portion of white blanket and he quilts them by hand.

Todate he has quilted 22. He gave one to each of 11 grandchildren and to other relatives.

In addition to the Neligh hospital, he also includes the Plainview hospital, Pierce county and the Lundberg hospital in Creighton, Knox county.

The colors predominating in his quilts are dark blue, red, green, and yellow. He also uses light pink, light blue occasionally.

Mr. Haskins has lived on the same farm 5 miles northwest of Creighton on Highway 14 for 40 years. This proves he is a good renter.

He uses neither tobacco nor liquor and has never danced. He said he liked to fish and hunt and play ball when he was young. He is a member of the Methodist church in Creighton and has attended there for more then 60 years.

When he was a lad he attended the old Mars school in northern Antelope county.

He has six children; Karl, of Cedar Falls, Ia., Mrs. George (Helen) Hansen of Wausa; Mrs. Edwin (Ruth) Hospodarsay of La Porte City, Ia.; Mrs. William (Irene) Frank of Verdigre; Edwin of La Porte City, Ia., and Raymond of Verdigre.

Mr. Haskins's mother lived to be 93. He has one sister Mrs. Ed Hubbard, 79, living on a farm near Creighton, and there are five brothers, four of whom are not married.

Three of the brothers—Casper, Walter and Bryan—live on the old home farm about six miles north of Royal. Julius lives at Laramie, Wyo., and Floyd resides in the Creighton vicinity.

Mr. Haskins says he works from 16 to 18 hours per day. He raises a big garden and gives the vegetables away. The day the reporter called, Mr. Haskins said, "The head nurse from the Creighton hospital was here and I gave her a bushel of peas and a bushel of beans."

A granddaughter, 13, makes her home with Mr. Haskins. She will attend high school in Creighton this fall.

When asked how long it requires him to piece and complete one quilt, Mr. Haskins said, "I did ine in 5½ days, but I had to hustle. I wouldn't want to work at it every day like that."

He has made one full size quilt but doesn't care to make the large ones.
