

10-12 Stops Planned on Irrigation Tour

Walter Kaup Place
First Visit

Farmers, ranchers and businessmen will be viewing 10 or 12 irrigation systems in operation next week. Crops that are being irrigated are corn, alfalfa, sorghums, pastures and native hay.

Some of the things to be observed are systems, power units and problems such as disease, fertility situations and crop rotations.

Those on the tour will see shallow wells, deep wells and pumping from streams or ponds.

John Steel, engineer from the University of Nebraska extension service, and Dr. M. D. Weldon, soils specialist from the extension service, will accompany the group to make comments and answer questions on irrigation.

The day's activities will start at 9 a.m. on Friday, August 12, at the Walter Kaup farm, located 2 1/2 miles west of Stuart on U.S. highway 20. The next stop will be at the Marion Davis farm, 1/4 mile west and 3/4 mile south of Stuart.

The third stop will be at the Frank Murphy farm, 1/2 mile east and 4 1/4 miles south of Stuart.

Next on the schedule will be a stop at the Frank Brady farm, 1/2 mile south and 1/2 mile west of the southwest corner of Atkinson.

Then there will be three stops: Henry Warren farm, seven miles north and 1 1/2 east of Atkinson; Floyd Butterfield and Robert Liege farms, located seven miles north and one west of Atkinson.

Other systems will be viewed along the way but will not be visited.

The group will eat lunch in Atkinson and journey toward O'- Neill, visiting the Otto Lorenz and the Neil Ryan places. A stop will be made at the Jim McDonald farm located on U.S. Highway 20, two miles southeast of O'Neill.

The group will go from there to the William Scheuchst farm, 11 miles east of O'Neill. The Gene Mudloff farm near Page will probably be the final stop unless time will permit other visits.

Many calls are being received at the extension office, the soil conservation office and local irrigation equipment dealers in the county relative to irrigation possibilities.

"This is an opportunity to see systems in operation and to talk to the operators themselves," County Agent A. Neil Dawes explains.

Holt now has at least 25 irrigation systems in operation, and more are in the process of being developed. There were five when the first tour was conducted three years ago. Dawes stated that businessmen should be interested in going on this tour, getting out on these farms and seeing what is going on in the field of irrigation, and meeting the farmers and ranchers on the farms and ranches.

Benjamin Will Assist Social Security Applicants

Harold F. Benjamin, field representative of the Omaha office of the social security administration, will be at O'Neill in the uals who wish to file claims for well as those who wish to file claims for survivors insurance benefits.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Harden Anspach went to Yankton, S.D., Sunday to witness the Gavin's Point dam closure.

Rock Falls News

Gavin's Point dam was the "point" of interest on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vequist and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Brown and children, who spent the day there sightseeing. Then returned by going south from Yankton, S.D., to O'Neill, where they had supper in the park.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clausen were Friday afternoon visitors of the Don Dickey family at Bristow.

Sunday visitors at the Albert Sterns home were their son, Edward, and family.

Mamie O'Neill has been spending vacation at the home of her grandson, Elwin Benson, and wife in Omaha.

Floyd Johnson was a Wednesday, July 27, visitor at the William Clausen home. He is frequently called there to "doctor" the livestock, but this visit had to do with "doctoring" a telephone.

Alden Breiner and boys had dinner Wednesday, July 27, with Theresa Breiner in O'Neill.

Linda Johnson and the John Schultz family went "swimming" in the Little Eagle creek in which you must roll over in the creek to get wet. It is a wonderful place to cool off on these hot afternoons and evenings. The water is clear and cool and there is plenty of shade.

Marie Lewis and Eddy Ethington were Sunday visitors at the William Clausen home.

Floyd Johnson, Lou Brown and John Schultz furnished some backing horses and steers for the O'Neill Saddle club practice last Thursday evening. A good crowd turned out to see the fun and the crowd wasn't disappointed. There was no gate charge but a free will offering was taken to help defray the expense of trucking.

David Vequist of St. Joseph, Mo., and his son, David, Jr., and wife and family of Lawrence, Kansas, arrived in O'Neill early Tuesday morning after driving all night. David, Sr., is a brother of Henry Vequist and Anna Brown of O'Neill and is going to spend a few days visiting friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vequist's daughter, Mrs. Orville Morrow, and family moved to Grand Island Saturday to see Mr. Morrow sister, Edith, and new baby.
They returned on Sunday.

Mrs. Floyd Johnson and Linda and Rosetta Purdy visited at Theresa Breiner's on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Johnson's sister, Lois, and sister-in-law, Mrs.
Heber Breiner and Bonnie and Sherry of Grand Island were also there. They arrived on Sunday evening and returned Monday evening. They and Theresa called at the John Cleary home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schultz and children and Bonnie and Jean Skelton moved to Norfolk Sunday to visit the ladies' sister, Darlene, who resides there.

Another family of the community attracted to the Gavin's Point dam on Sunday, included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Widfeldt and children. They also spent some time at Pickstown and at the dam where they saw quite a change since their last visit about a year ago. They reported a very enjoyable day, regardless of the heat, even to the extent of losing a member of the family for a while. One was earnestly exploring the interior of an abandoned furnace and smoke stack, where brick had been made at a former time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Vequist and children met at the Orville Miller home on Wednesday evening, July 27, and the Art O'Neill's on Friday evening. Members of the Eagle Creek 4-H club practiced entertainment used at the old settler's picnic on Tuesday evening.

Thursday supper guests of the William Clausen's were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thorson.

Mrs. Lyle Vequist and daughter, Rita, were Sunday breakfast guests of Mrs. Celia Grutsch.

Mrs. John Schultz and daughters were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Schultz's parents, Floyd Johnson, on Tuesday.

Return from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Cronin and Mrs. P. B. Hart returned last Thursday from a vacation in the East. Mrs. Hart's son, Thomas, who is in the air force at Sault St.
Marie, Mich., accompanied them.

They were in several provinces of Canada, New York, Vermont, Michigan, Pennsylvania and several midwestern states.

Miss Barbara Wolff Bride of Ewing Man

EWING—Miss Barbara Wolff of Sioux Falls, S.D., became the bride of John L. Pruden of Ewing in a wedding rite performed Sunday, July 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pruden of Ewing, the bridegroom's parents.

Rev. Lee Brigden, pastor of First Methodist church here, officiated in the 2 p.m. double-ring ceremony performed before an improvised altar banked with white gladioli and daisies. Records furnished the musical background.

The bride wore a white street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white tea roses.

The bridegroom wore a light grey suit with a rose boutonniere.
The couple was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Fern Pruden, who chose a pale pink dress with avocado accessories and a corsage of white button mums, and by Sam Burtwistle, the best-man. He wore a light blue business suit and a chrysanthemum boutonniere.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. S. D. Murphy, aunt of the bridegroom, assisted.
Guests attending were Mrs. Clara Tucker of Ewing, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Murphy of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pruden of Clearwater, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Larsen of Ewing, James H. Pruden of Ewing, Rev. and Mrs. Lee Brigden and son, Gary.

The young couple enjoyed a wedding trip to Yellowstone park and other points of interest in the Western states.

They are now at home to their friends in Ewing.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Pru-den was employed at the office of the Anchor Casualty Co. in Sioux Falls.

Mr. Pruden is a graduate of Ewing high school and served two years in the armed forces, a part of which was spent overseas. He was discharged in June, 1955. He is engaged in ranching.

New Bride Feted at Reception

The bride was feted Friday evening at a shower held at the parlors of the First Methodist church. Baskets of gladioli and garden flowers were used in the decorations which carried out a theme of the bride's chosen colors of yellow and aqua.

Mrs. Ralph Eacker was in charge of the entertainment and provided contest games, the prizes going to Mrs. Pruden.

An umbrella, yellow and aqua trimmed, served as the centerpiece of the lace-covered table, which was piled with gifts. The honored guest received many articles for her new home.

Mrs. Robert Pruden had charge of the giftbook and others assisting were Miss Fern Pruden and Mrs. Gene Ruby. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ben Larsen, aunt of the bridegroom.

Masons, Star Hosts to Visiting Children

LYNCH—More than 160 persons attended the Masonic-Eastern Star children's picnic at Lynch park Sunday.

Food was contributed by Butte, Spencer, Niobrara and Lynch lodges with free watermelons being furnished.

Thirty-nine children and their sponsors came from the home.
Food was welcomed and introduced, the children gave a short program. One of the sponsors explained the work of the home.

The children went swimming during the afternoon.
