

Seminarian to Speak in Chambers Pulpit

8 from St. Paul's in Religious Work

CHAMBERS—Darrel D. Hoerle, one of eight men and women from St. Paul's Lutheran church here who are serving the church or preparing for service, will be the guest speaker for the congregation Sunday, September 4, at 10:30 a.m. He will preach on Luke 15:11-32, the parable of the prodigal son and his unforgiving brother. Sermon title: "Our Love and Concern for the Brethren."

Mr. Hoerle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoerle of Chambers. He soon will return with his wife, Clara, to St. Louis, Mo., to begin his third year of studies at Concordia seminary. During the summer he has been preaching and doing supply work in the St. Louis area.

Others from the parish in the religious profession are:

Norman Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walter, who returns to Concordia seminary to begin his final year of studies in preparation for ordination next summer. Mr. Walter vicaried this past year at Seaford, Del., establishing and pastoring a new congregation.

Miss Vivian Harley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Harley, returns to Concordia Teachers college at Seward for her sophomore year in preparation for a teaching assignment in the parochial schools of the Missouri synod.

Miss Dorothy Haake left last week for a teaching position at the Lutheran elementary school of Nokomis, Ill. She will teach elementary grades.

Donald Haake, brother of Miss Dorothy, also is a graduate of Concordia Teachers college. He received a call and was installed recently as teacher at the Lutheran parochial school at Elwood. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haake.

Miss Elsie Leirman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Leirman of Amelia, is employed on the staff of the Back-to-the-Bible broadcast at Lincoln.

Miss Vivian Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Walter, graduated from the Concordia Teachers college and received training from Wayne Teachers college. She will teach at the Lutheran school at Park, Minn.

Miss Marjorie Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walter, will enter the Lutheran hospital at Sioux City on Tuesday, September 6, to begin nurse's training.

Seminarian Hoerle . . . to be guest speaker.

Lack of Pasture, Forage Spurs Sales

Moisture Five Inches Below Normal

The heat wave, which withered the corn crop and dried up the pastures, appears to have been broken. Cooler air moving in from western Canada reached the O'Neill region Sunday night.

Crop experts have written off most of Nebraska's drouth and heat-plagued corn crop as beyond recovery. Corn conditions have deteriorated for the sixth straight week, the state-federal agricultural statistician reported.

Much of the corn is being cut into feed although there is complaint on the quality.

Pasture is extremely short. Lack of pasture and short forage have spurred sales of livestock at most sales markets.

The central Nebraska area averages 9.90 inches of moisture since April 1 compared to a normal of 15.07.

"More corn is being cut for silage or fodder this year in Holt county than has been the case in many years. If care is not taken this may result in some very serious wind erosion before spring." This was an observation passed on by C. R. Hill of the Holt Soil Conservation district. He also pointed out that Mr. Obst, who operates the R. H. Parker farm, one mile southeast of O'Neill on highway 20, has set a good example of some good conservation practices.

Mr. Obst has left six rows out of every 40 standing. This may not eliminate wind erosion entirely but it certainly is effective much of the time.

Not only will it reduce wind erosion, but it will trap snow that may fall and increase the available moisture on the field," Hill said.

County Agent A. Neil Daves and the soil technicians are urging that whenever corn or sorghum is cut, some rows be left to reduce the threat of wind erosion. The number of rows to leave in proportion to those cut will depend on how susceptible the field is to wind erosion.

Miss Clasey Will Wed This Month

PAGE—Miss Joyce Clasey of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Clasey, was honored at a pre-nuptial shower Saturday evening at the Page Methodist church parlors.

The honoree was the recipient of many gifts. Her sister, Mrs. Marvin Sinkule of Lincoln, presided over the giftbook and Mrs. Lawrence Riege assisted at the gift table.

Mesdames A. T. Crumly, Lawrence Riege and Harold Freemyer were in charge of entertainment and decorating. A miniature bride and bridegroom centered the gift table and bouquets of roses graced the serving table.

The kitchen committee included Mesdames Lloyd Fusselman, Harold Heise, Elmer Trowbridge, John Lamason, Jesse Kelly, Alton Bradlock and Merwyn French, sr.

Miss Clasey is employed at the state capitol and will continue her work there following her mid-September wedding to William Plautz of Lincoln.

Football Clinic Open to Public

For the benefit of adults and teenagers who desire to obtain a better understanding of the game of football a community football clinic will be held Thursday, September 8.

The clinic will begin at 8 p.m., and will be held under the lights at Carney park, if weather permits. In the event of rain, it will be held in the academy auditorium.

Some of the topics to be covered are: Protective equipment, offensive and defensive formations, officials and their duties, eight-man football rules, plus various other phases of the game.

A complete program will be printed in next week's Frontier. The clinic will be concluded with a pep rally in preparation for SMA's opening game of the season Friday, September 9.

This clinic will be open to all and is free. "The sole purpose of the clinic is to aid the interested spectators in gaining a better understanding of the game of football and thus help them to better appreciate the game," Coach Don Templemeyer explained.

Range Management Tour Is Scheduled

There will be a range management tour for the veterans' class at Chambers and anyone interested in range management. This tour is scheduled for Wednesday, September 7. The group will leave the Chambers high school at 1 p.m.

On Wednesday, September 21, a tour showing the results of native grass seedings will be conducted. The public is invited but full details have not been worked out. More will appear on this tour in the September 15 issue of The Frontier.

Tuesday, September 27, is the date set for the seventh and eighth grade conservation day. A full day's activities, similar to that of two years ago, is planned. All seventh and eighth grade students from both rural and city schools, their teachers and their parents are urged to attend.

November 1 is the deadline for tree orders for 1956 from the Holt soil conservation district.

Assault Charged for Third Time

BUTTE—Clayton Thomson of Lynch, charged with assault, was fined $25 and costs of $5 by Acting County Judge Louis H. Anderson.

The complaint against Thomson was signed by Joseph Slechta, sr., of Lynch. This is the third time in the past two years Thomson has faced assault charges, two being in 1955.

STREET-WIDENING DONE

The actual widening of certain sections of Douglas and Fourth streets has been completed, although some curbing and gutter construction remains to be done at intersections. The new highway linking the West O'Neill corner with the O'Neill Drive-in theater corner is nearing completion, leaving only the corner work unfinished. Mayor Alva Marcelus said he has been assured the corner will be completed in just a matter of days.

Firemen Called to Grass Fires

O'Neill firemen were called to two prairie fires this week, but both fires were out, or under control before the trucks arrived.

Some hay was burned in the Orville Eppenbach pasture west of the old opportunity store Thursday evening and a prairie fire was reported at the Henry Viquest place, located about 23 miles northwest of O'Neill on Wednesday afternoon.

WE BEG YOUR PARDON

Polio Victim Is Buried in Missouri

CHAMBERS—Funeral services for Mrs. Norman Paxton, 25, mother of three small children, were conducted Wednesday, August 24, at a funeral home in Sedalia, Mo. Burial was made there.

Mrs. Paxton, the former Joyce Thornton of Chambers, died in a Kansas City, Mo., hospital in an iron lung. She was stricken with polio several weeks before and died Monday, August 22.

Survivors include: Widower; sons—Cecil Lee, 7, and Robert, 2; daughter—Norma Joyce, 4; parents—Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thornton of Chambers; sisters—Mrs. Clay Johnson, jr., of O'Neill; brother—James, who is in the navy.

Mr. Paxton and the three children, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Johnson arrived Thursday in Chambers.

State Patrol Opens Five New Stations

The Nebraska patrol will open five new stations in northeast and north-Nebbraska today (Thursday), including O'Neill, Albion, Randolph, South Sioux City and Valentine.

Stations at Plainview and Wayne will be discontinued. Patrolman Robert Gude of Plainview, formerly of O'Neill, will return here.

150 Sparrows Killed

CELIA—This locality received 2 1/2 inches of rain Monday evening, August 22, which was badly needed. Gorn is in good shape considering the drought and extreme heat the past several weeks.

At the Omar Poynts home north of Stuart and directly west of Celia they report leaves stripped from trees and counted 150 sparrows killed that night by hail.

Hail did a little damage in Celia in gardens and some damage to alfalfa.

Sees Rockies for First Time

EMMET—Mrs. William Grothe, sr., returned Monday, August 22, from a trip to Berthoud, Colo., and a visit to various Rocky mountains points. Mrs. Grothe, who recently was hospitalized, said it was her first glimpse of the mountains.

She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grothe on the trip.

Mildred R. Ernst Weds Leon Hendricks

ATKINSON—Miss Mildred R. Ernst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ernst of Miltonvale, Kans., became the bride of Leon H. Hendricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hendricks of Atkinson, at 7:30 p.m., on Tuesday, August 23. Rev. Charles Phipps of Atkinson read the ceremony in the Miltonvale college chapel before an altar banked with white and pastel daisies and asters. Gladioli and candelabra completed the decorations. Rev. J. A. Stansbury offered prayer.

Miss Ruth Johnson, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music. The traditional wedding marches and the accompaniment for Miss Shelly Lloyd, who sang "Because," and Miss June Whitney, who sang "O Perfect Love." Misses Lloyd and Whitney sang the duets, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Always."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin. The gown had a light-fitting bodice and buttoned down the back. The round yoke was of nylon net. Below the yoke were twin collars covered with seed pearls in a delicate design of flowers and leaves. The sleeves were long, tapering and buttoned at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a half-hat of lace and net. She carried a white Biltmore, a gift from the bridegroom, crested with white roses and centered with a red rose corsage which she wore for her wedding trip.

The bride's attendants were Anne Ernst, maid-of-honor; Marilyn Hendricks, matron-of-honor, and Vera Ernst, bridesmaid. Their gowns of blue, yellow and orchid taffeta and tulle fell into full ballerina-length skirts. They wore tiny hats and black lace boleros and carried colonial bouquets.

The candlelighters, Carolyn Frickel, cousin of the bridegroom, and Markita Hendricks, sister of the bridegroom, wore pink and blue matching gowns. Little Lection Knapp, dressed in a tiny pink formal, and little Arlan Hendricks, brother of the bridegroom, attired in a brown suit, carried baskets of flowers.

Robert Hendrick was bestman for his brother, John Ernst and Eugene Henderson attended as groomsmen. The gentlemen wore gray suits with maroon ties. Mrs. McIntosh plays Mrs. Gleeson.

The bride's mother wore a charcoal crepe dress with navy accessories and the bridegroom's mother a changeable pastel daron dress with brown accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Ushers were Delmar Robertson and Bernard Lorenz. Ruth Burkes was in charge of the guest book; Beth Whitney, the gifts.

At a reception held in the college dining hall, Mr. and Mrs. Erma Garringer were hosts. Naomi Nelson cut the wedding cake, baked and decorated with bells and roses by Mrs. Paul Nelson, aunt of the bridegroom, and Corine Winterberg served the punch.

The guest tables featured flowers and candles, and were served by Darlen Stites and Carol Burge. Two hundred and twenty-five guests were present and a special guest was Mrs. Omer Poynts of Stuart, the only living grandmother of the bride and bridegroom.

Other out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sundell of Wakefield; Mrs. Harriet McElhane of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ernst and daughters, Vera and Velda, of O'Neill; Bernard Lorenz of O'Neill; Craig Connell of Mariaville; Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Nelson, Naomi and Arden of O'Neill.

Ronnie, Donnie and Carolyn Frickel, Clarence, Bill and Paul Focken, Francis Chaffin, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Phipps and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hendricks, Markita and Arlin, all of Atkinson.

Carol Burge of Chambers; Henry and John Marlin of Panhandle, Tex.; George Woolstrum of Ansley.

Mrs. Omer Poynts of Stuart. Friends from Salina, Phillipsburg and McPherson, Kans., also were present.

After a week's trip to Colorado the newlyweds are at home on the Hendricks ranch.

State Jaycee President Coming

The new president of the Nebraska Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the honored guest at a Jaycee picnic dinner to be held here Sunday, September 18. Members and their families will attend. The date was fixed Tuesday night at a meeting of the O'Neill Jaycees. Twenty attended the session held at the American Legion club.

The Jaycees on Sunday afternoon will join with O'Neill Saddle club members in moving Saddle club equipment from the present arena to Carney park.

Jaskowski, Golden Again in Finals

Ladies' Tournament Progresses

Max Golden and A. P. ("Scoville") Jaskowski will again meet in the finals of the city-wide golf tournament. The title match will be played Sunday at the Country club.

Golden is the defending champion and Jaskowski is a former city champ. The two have clashed several times in the past for city golf laurels. But Jaskowski must defeat Golden twice to win because play in the championship has been on a double elimination basis.

In first flight finals, Earl Hunt bested Gordon Drayton of Orchard, 3-2. Their match was played Sunday. In the consolation match, Marvin Johnson defeated John H. McCarville, 2-1.

A golf breakfast will be held at the club Sunday morning followed by a mixed foursome tourney.

In the afternoon, the men will start a two-day tourney which will be finished on Monday (labor day).

Meanwhile, a ladies golf tourney is in progress.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT (First round)

Regret Inability to Return with Water

Mr. and Mrs. George M. McCarthy and daughter, Miss Beverly, returned home Sunday evening from a 2 1/2 week's trip to the east coast. They drove to Omaha on August 11, where their daughter, Beverly, joined them.

In Philadelphia, Pa., they attended the 73d annual meeting of the Knights of Columbus supreme council. After the convention, they drove to Norfolk, Va., to meet their son, Edward, who had just returned from a cruise aboard the carrier Valley Forge.

Edward was on a 19-day cruise which included stops at Barcelona, Spain, England and Cuba. He will again board the Valley Forge on September 5 for a cruise to Portugal.

After spending several days in Norfolk visiting their son and brother, they drove to Wisconsin to visit friends and relatives. They were in Pennsylvania when Hurricane Connie moved in with torrential rains.

While in Philadelphia, Hurricane Diane deluged the city with more rain, forcing them to deviate from their planned route as some highways were under water. "Our only regret is that we could not bring some of the excess rain to the parched area of Nebraska," Mr. McCarthy explained.

Miss Beverly returned to Omaha on Monday, August 29, where she is employed by Northwestern Bell Telephone company as a supervisor.
