

Autumn Haze Drifts Over Land

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

The bright days of October are here. Goldenrod is everywhere and down along the meadows and pastures the blue lupine thrusts up its lovely deep blue head. Sunac flames along country roads and creek beds, trees don their fall colors and the haze of autumn drifts over the far landscape. Often we have many golden hours in the Indian summer time of our year.

I hope you bought the cotton jersey shirts for the grade school youngsters to wear to school. They wash so easily and oh, happy day, need no ironing.

When you do the ironing, tuck a clean hanky into small jeans or dress pockets and then you'll always know that the children have a clean handkerchief before they start to school without that scramble to look for one. If you make the little girls' cotton dresses, make a hanky of matching material. When the dress becomes old and is to be worn for every day, you can use the hanky as a matching patch if needed. It will be faded to the same color as the dress.

Buy at least six pairs of socks or anklets for the children at a time in all the same color. Then you will have the added economy of matching the anklets until only one pair remains. It means you get a lot more wear for the money.

Teach the children to polish their own school shoes. They can learn quite early and keeping their shoes polished will teach them neatness and make the shoes wear much longer. It is surprising how much responsibility children can and will shoulder along this line if you give them the chance.

To save that early morning frantic half hour, check all the children's clothes that they will wear to school the night before they are to be worn. Make sure they're ready with no buttons missing and so on.

Plan the school lunch at least a day before hand, if not longer, and make all possible luncheon preparations beforehand. Then it won't take nearly so long to pack school lunches in the morning and you'll be better prepared. Sometimes food needs to be chilled beforehand, too, and you want to be sure to do that.

Cool Days Encourage Baking—Dear Frontier Woman:

As we all love to see The Frontier Woman in the paper every week, I'll try and help once again. These cool days we can easily bake and enjoy some goodies. I've made these which are very good and you just try them and see if you agree.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES
One-half cup shortening, 1/2 cup honey, 1/2 cup brown sugar, one egg (well beaten), 1/2 cup peanut butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, two cups all purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts.

Cream shortening, honey and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add well beaten eggs. Add peanut butter and salt. Stir in flour and soda (sifted together) and mix well. Add nuts, form into small balls of dough and place upon a greased cookie sheet. Press with a fork for a design. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 F. five to 10 minutes.

CHOCOLATE BROWNIES
One-half cup butter or oleo, two eggs, one cup chopped nuts, six tablespoons cream, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup sugar, 1/2 cup flour, two squares chocolate, pinch salt.

Cream fat, add sugar and cream well. Add beaten eggs, then the melted chocolate. Mix nuts with flour and add with cream to the first mixture. Add salt and vanilla. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. James Dobias and family and Ivan Kliment.
