Appetizing Meals from Left-Overs

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

I hope the turkey proves to be juicy and delicious, that the pumpkin pie is so good it is out of this world and that the dressing turns out to be as light and fluffy as those fabled biscuits your husband says his mother used to bake. Also, here is hoping there is some left over!

If there is, why not make a pan of your favorite baking powder biscuits and, using a can of chicken soup, make a gravy and put the left-over bits of turkey in it? Serve over the split biscuits for a turkey shortcake that your family will enjoy. Or you can use a biscuit mix and things will go more quickly than ever.

You can combine the left-over turkey with rice. You will need a pound of left-over turkey, if there is that much left, otherwise don't try this recipe.

TURKEY-RICE CASSEROLE
One pound left-over turkey, four cups cooked rice, one onion, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, two cups tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, one tablespoon fat.

Melt the fat and add the sliced onion. Add the tomatoes and season after the onion is browned and heat through. Grease a baking dish and put in a layer of rice, then add the turkey and gravy and cover with the rice dotted with fat.

If you don't like tomatoes used with poultry such as turkey or chicken, use a white sauce instead. Bake at 350 F. for 30 minutes. It will serve six.

TURKEY SALAD LOAF
If you had chicken, substitute it instead of the left-over turkey. One cup boiled rice, 1/3 cup mayonnaise, one cup diced cooked chicken or turkey, two tablespoons chopped nuts, salt and pepper to taste, one small can asparagus tips.

Mix thoroughly the rice, chicken, asparagus and mayonnaise.

Add nuts and seasoning. Pack firmly into mold and chill for three hours. Unmold. Garnish with salad greens. Serve in slices with mayonnaise. It will serve six.

Dear Mrs. Pease: I enjoy reading the letters and recipes in your column each week in The Frontier and would not miss a copy for anything. Fall is with us and we are looking forward to the holidays now.

All the shopping and preparing good things makes these glorious days the best time of the year. Our spirits run high when we think of the friends and relatives far away who gather with us to enjoy roast turkey and all the trimmings. We are having relatives from a distance with us for dinner today (Thanksgiving). We are not sure we can get together for Christmas, so I will prepare a combination Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner.

With our nice weather again, we can enjoy it and look forward and hope for it. I hope this good weather remains with us until after the new year.

I am sending some recipes that I like. Good luck to you.

SEAFOAM NUT BARS
One-half cup butter, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup brown sugar (firmly packed), two egg yolks, two cups sifted flour, one teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, two egg whites, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar (firmly packed), 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Cream butter and sugar and beat until fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk and vanilla. Spread the dough in a greased 12x7 1/2 x 2-inch pan.

Beat the egg whites until stiff and gradually add sugar (the 1 1/2 cups brown sugar listed at the last) and beat until stiff. Spread over dough and sprinkle with nuts. Bake in a slow oven of 325 F. for about 35 minutes. Cut in bars while still warm.

DOWN ON THE FARM BOILED DINNER

Three and one-half pounds beef, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon salt, eight small onions, two rutabagas cut in eighths, eight small potatoes, one head cabbage, six carrots cut in chunks.

Place beef in a large kettle. Bring to a boil and pour off the water and cover with fresh water. Add pepper, onions and salt. Cover and simmer for three hours or until tender. Add rutabagas, potatoes, carrots and simmer for 25 minutes. Cut cabbage into eight wedges and add with carrots. Cook 20 minutes longer or until cabbage and carrots are tender. Arrange on platter.
