

Clubbers Like Rainbow Salad

By MRS. BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

What to serve for club? That's always a problem, isn't it? Today we have a couple of salad suggestions you might like to try. Maybe you'll want to try them on your family first and make sure you like them—and then, if you do, serve them for club.

RAINBOW SALAD
This will serve 10 to 12, so you may judge your group by this. Chill thoroughly and combine: One cup each of finely chopped cabbage, green pepper, raw carrot and lettuce, 1/2 cup each finely chopped cucumbers and onions; one cup diced celery, one cup small tomato chunks, 1/4 pound American cheese (grated), one cup canned peas (drained), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon sugar, 1/2 cup vinegar.

CHERRIRICH SALAD
One small can black bing cherries (1 1/2 cup size can), one package cherry or raspberry flavored gelatin, one small can crushed pineapple (or just use 1/2 of it), drained, and 1/4 cup chopped pecan meats. Optional: About six white or colored marshmallows (cup up).

Drain the juice from the cherries and use it as part of the pint of liquid to dissolve the gelatin. Let gelatin start to congeal in mold and add the cherries (pit them if they are not already pitted), drained crushed pineapple and nuts. If you like a sweet tasting salad and like marshmallows in salad, spot a half dozen neatly cut up in the salad. Colored marshmallows make the salad more colorful and bright. Serve on lettuce with or without a mayonnaise type dressing.

This also makes a good dessert. The juice makes it very rich and fruity tasting. If served as a dessert, pile it in sherbets and add a dab of whipped cream.

It will serve at least six. Double or triple it, or more, according to club membership. Don't use the pineapple juice in the gelatin. Save it and let somebody drink it or use it in something else.

Wins Subscription—
O'Neill, Nebr.

Dear Mrs. Pease:
I suppose you think I'm a good one for not thanking you for a subscription I won quite a while ago. I surely enjoy all of your writing and get a kick out of some of it.

I am sending in some recipes I'd like to see in print. I always do lots of baking here and I'm always looking for new recipes to use.

Have never had the chance to see your new house. But have friends up in that country and they said it was very pretty. My sister and her family at Verdell had a fire in their home and remodeled it. It sure is lovely.

RANGER COOKIES
One cup shortening, one cup white sugar, one cup brown sugar, two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, two cups flour, one teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, two cups quick cooking oatmeal.

Sewer Construction Low Bid $76,804

Work Will Commence At Once

EWING — The Ewing village board met Tuesday evening, November 22, at the municipal public library where bids were opened and read pertaining to the building of a sewer system in Ewing.

Several contractors were interested in this project, also different firms which had asked for specifications prior to submitting a bid.

The low-bidding firm was the McCreey Construction company of Crookston with a figure of $76,804.35 for the complete job.

The board and the consulting engineering firm were pleased as this amount was practically six thousand-dollars under the estimated cost of $82,500.

The bid is for a complete system and disposal plant to service the area of the town. The project was set up in the original survey by the engineering firm.

The second low bidder was W. J. Gerhold Co. of Columbus with a bid of $89,718.95.

The approval of the entire board and the contract was awarded. It is yet to be approved by John Gallagher of O'Neill, who is the attorney for the town of Ewing.

Mr. McCreary, winner of the contract, stated he had the promise of immediate shipment of the material and he expected to start work on the project about December 1. He also said he would use considerable local labor for the job with a few specialized workmen.

Engineer Cliff Dier, representing the Harold Hosking and Associates engineering firm of Lincoln, handled the proposed sewer project engineering details. The bids were opened and read by Mr. Dier.

William Daly, representing the Wachob-Bender corporation, the firm which will handle the bonding of this project, was also present at the meeting.
