A NEW YEAR ... A NEW ERA

As we pass from 1955 into 1956, each day brings into sharper focus the possibilities of a New Era of Progress in Nebraska as a result of the proposed construction of a nuclear-powered electric generating plant by CONSUMERS PUBLIC POWER DISTRICT.

A vast amount of work yet remains to be done, and perhaps several years must pass before this revolutionary type of plant becomes an operating reality.

Nevertheless, the New Year of 1956 can be viewed by Nebraskans as the dawn of a new era—an era of unparalleled challenges and opportunities in agricultural and industrial progress for our great state.

Best wishes for a HAPPY & PROSPEROUS 1956 from the management and employees of Consumers Public Power District

'56 Vehicle Plates on Sale January 3

The new 1956 motor vehicle plates will go on sale Tuesday, January 3, in the Holt county treasurer's office at the courthouse here.

All car plates will be eight dollars this year and not by the weight of the car as in former years.

A weight ticket will be needed for all trucks this year. This can be obtained at any weighing station. The amount of the truck plates is based on the rated capacity. The list below shows the rate for a truck for one year.

Local and farm truck rates:

3/4 ton or less	$ 8.00
1 1/2 ton	10.00
2 ton	12.00
2 1/2 ton	15.00
3 ton	20.00
4 ton	25.00
5 ton	30.00
6 ton	35.00
7 ton	40.00
8 ton	45.00
9 ton	50.00

Car owners in purchasing license plates must turn in their 1955 registration certificate. They must also present all three copies of the car tax, which are obtained from the county assessor's office. The three copies are required as the treasurer's office must stamp all three.

Motor vehicle owners can obtain their licenses by buying them at the county treasurer's office, or sending for them by mail. If by mail, the order must be accompanied by the 1955 registration certificate and three copies of the car tax.

Serve Pancakes For Supper

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

Well, here was are at the last Thursday in December and next week we'll have to start learning to write "1956." And here I've just gotten used to the idea of writing "1955." Time gets to be a more slippery old cuss every year and goes by before you ever know what's happened to you.

By now everyone is probably so surfeited with rich foods that something plain and ordinary will taste pretty good again. How many of you ever serve pancakes for supper? If you have some leftover chicken after new year's, you might cream it the next day and serve it, a couple of tablespoons full inside a rolled up and baked pancake. That is, bake the pancake first, put on the chicken and roll it up. Serve and eat at once!

Because your budget is probably screaming for help and you'll need to squeeze it anyway for the new year fowl, how about serving a savory salmon loaf one of these days? It's good, economical and easily made.

SAVORY SALMON LOAF

One-half cup crisp buttered bread crumbs, two eggs (slightly beaten), 1/2 cup milk, two cups (one pound) canned pink salmon (flaked), one teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1/2 teaspoon sage, two teaspoons finely chopped onion, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one tablespoon melted butter.

Combine ingredients in order given. Pack firmly in buttered loaf pan and bake in moderate oven of 350 F. for 45 minutes. Turn out on platter and serve with creamed peas as sauce. Serves six.

Another good and economical way to serve salmon is—

SALMON POT PIE

Four tablespoons butter, one tablespoon minced onion, six tablespoons flour, one cup salmon juice and water, 1 1/2 cups milk, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon lemon juice, dash paprika, one cup diced cooked celery, one cup cooked new peas, one-pound can salmon.

Melt the butter and add onion. Cook two minutes, then stir in flour, salmon juice and water and milk. Cook, stirring until thick and smooth. Add seasonings, celery, peas and salmon, broken into large pieces. Pour into a casserole and top with biscuit dough rolled thin and cut in fancy shapes. Bake in a hot oven of 400 F. about 20 to 30 minutes, or until crust is nicely browned. Buttered bread strips may replace biscuit dough if desired. Serves six.

Mrs. Pinkerman Wins Subscription—

Dear Mrs. Pease:

These cold winter days are just right for catching up on the letters that have been put back for writing where there is less to do. Certainly these below zero temperatures do not invite any outdoor activities that aren't necessary. Living on the farm gives me a few necessary out-of-doors chores but a couple of very quick trips to the chicken house each day are about the limit of my airings on these cold days.

The youngsters seem to thrive on playing outside and the fact that I don't stick my nose out unless it is necessary definitely places me in the older age group. However, I am not one of the oldsters who feels the younger generation is wild and less responsible than we were as teenagers. To be perfectly honest, Blanche, the only thing I can see wrong with today's teenagers is the simple fact that I am not one of them anymore.

Christmas will soon be here. (Editorial note: This letter was naturally written before Christmas.) I imagine many of your readers are head over heels in gift buying and wrapping now, but not me. I'm the gal who waits until the last minute rush is on and then dashes out and winds up exhausted but full of the old holiday hustle and bustle spirit, after a spree of last minute buying.

I have discovered a household hint that works so well I'd like to pass it on to your readers. Cut circles of "foil wrap" just larger than the burner of your gas or electric stove. Shape them down around the burner like a dish with a hole in the middle for the burner (or air vent if your stove is electric). These are very easy to cut out and they catch any drippings from the cooking that would otherwise be cooked fast to your burner trough, and have to be scrubbed up. These can be changed as needed and they do an excellent job of keeping the stove clean under the burner.

Well, this letter has grown to quite a length so I had better cut for this time.
