

Cardinals Spanked in Tourney Opener

Spencer Eagles Too Much for SMA

NIORARA—In the first round of the Niobrara Valley conference basketball tourney played Tuesday night at Niobrara, St. Mary's academy of O'Neill was knocked out, 91-49, by the powerful Spencer high Eagles. The halftime score was 41-20 in favor of Spencer.

High point man for Spencer was Mulford with 25. David Schaffer and Jim Becker each accumulated 11 points for St. Mary's. Spencer was hot and hard-driving and there was nothing Coach Don Templemeyer's kids could do to check the Eagles, who held two earlier wins over the O'Neill parochial team.

4 Teams Seeded in Class B Tourney

The Ainsworth Bulldogs, Bassett Tigers, Neligh Warriors and Valentine Badgers are the seeded teams in the class B O'Neill regional basketball tournament on Feb. 24.

Class B pairings:

Semifinals will be played on Thursday, February 23, and finals on Friday, February 24.

Page Town Team Comes from Behind

Orchard's high point man was Young with 20. Holbrook got 14. Larry Heiss scored 28 points for Page with Kenneth Heiss and Eddie Walker tying for second with 12 points.
From a 14-point disadvantage, Page crept up to win.

Guard Cagers Bop Chambers, 64-41

Company D's basketball team has emerged victorious in the past two games. Latest victim was the Chambers Towners, 64-41.
Heiss poured in 21 points in the Chambers game; Huston, 15. Gribble was best for Chambers with 16.
The national guard outfit played the Lynch Towners Wednesday night, February 8.

MARNE TO IOWA

Irish Singers Please with Precision, Art

companion were indeed pleasing.

Mr. Gaffney's fine (but not big) baritone sang "The Old Lullaby Fair" another concert high point. Final number was a traditional, "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls."

Kitty permitted only one encore—a disappointment to the first, second and third generation Irish listeners and the hordes of Scandinavian, German and English descent who comprised the audience.

"That was our concert," explained Kitty to O'Neillites, who were spoiled in the initial Community Concert 14 months ago when the great American tenor, James Melton, sang on and on.

It was a concert of beauty, both in sound and sight. It was a positive description of the Irish people who always find a silver lining.

At a smorgasbord following the concert, O'Neill's H. E. Coyne, who visited Ireland two years ago, asked Mr. Agnew:

"Would you happen to know a Mr. Parker who lives at the Gresham hotel in Dublin?"
"Yes, I do," replied the tenor. "He's my uncle. I was raised on his farm."

Jacqueline A. Hoke, Donald Kloppenborg Nuptials at Kimball

EMMET—Miss Jacqueline Ann Hoke became the bride of Donald D. Kloppenborg Sunday afternoon, January 29, in a 2 o'clock ceremony at the Trinity Methodist church at Kimball.

Mrs. Kloppenborg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hoke of Kimball. Mr. Kloppenborg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kloppenborg of Emmet.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clarence Smith before an altar banked with baskets of yellow and white mums and ferns. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was fashioned with a skirt of chantilly lace and pleated tulle ruffles with a sweep train. The overskirt of white satin was designed on a princess line with long sleeves ending in points at the wrists with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls with matching embroidery at the hemline.

The fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a double crown of sequins and pearls. The bride's attendants wore gowns of ruffled tulle with taffeta overskirts fashioned to match that of the bride. They carried baskets of carnations in contrasting colors.

Miss Rosalie Swanson of Sidney served as maid-of-honor, appearing in a gown of cotton blue. Acting as bridesmaids were Miss Ramona Day of Terrytown, wearing gold, and Miss Cecelia Schneringer of North Platte, who wore American beauty.

Organ music was played by Evangel Wisdom of Kimball, who also accompanied the bride as she sang "I Love Thee," and Miss Mary Louise Russell of Kimball, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the Methodist education building. Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. W. J. Gausman of Sidney and Mrs. George Pierson of Sinclair, Wyo., sister of the bridegroom.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a black and white tweed suit with tangerine accessories and a corsage of roses. After a short honeymoon in Lincoln, the couple will be at home at 118½ South Howard street in Kimball.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kloppenborg and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wayman and daughter, all of Emmet; Mr. and Mrs. George Pierson and family of Sinclair, Wyo.; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kloppenborg and family of Cozad; Donald Beckwith and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beckwith, all of O'Neill; Miss Shirley Heermann of Ainsworth.
