Beverly Jane Chace
Bride of Chicagoan

ATKINSON — Miss Beverly Jane Chace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chace of Atkinson, and Gordon H. Weyermuller, son of Mrs. G. H. Weyermuller and the late Mr. Weyermuller of Lawrence, Kans., were married at Howes Memorial chapel in Evanston, Ill., 4 p.m., Saturday, April 14. Dr. James C. McLeod, dean of students at Northwestern university, was the minister. Sixty persons attended.
Decorations in the chapel included two vases of snapdragons and chrysanthemums with lemon leaves, at the altar, with seven-branch candelabra on each side. The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a white ballerina-length lace and tulle gown with a satin cummerbund and short sleeves. She wore a shoulder-length veil of white illusion falling from a lace Juliet cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias and ivy and wore a single strand of pearls.
Miss Lois L. Lafferty served as maid-of-honor. She appeared in a ballerina-length dress of azure blue taffeta, princess-cut, with short puffed cap sleeves and a self-bustled bow at the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.
Donald A. Lewis of Peoria, Ill., served as best man.
Mrs. Warren W. Krefl sang "The Prayer Perfect" and Malott's "The Lord's Prayer." The organist was Gerald Crawford. He played Lohengrin's "Wedding March" (processional) and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" (recessional). Ernest Nordlinger was usher.
Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the parents at the Orrington hotel in Evanston.
For going away, the bride chose a green linen dress and a beige coat and hat. They went to Nassau for their wedding trip.
Mrs. Weyermuller was graduated from Atkinson high school and attended Northwestern university at Evanston. She has been employed as a secretary of the American College of Surgeons.
Mr. Weyermuller, a graduate of the University of Kansas who did graduate work at Rutgers, Columbia and Northwestern universities, is associate editor of the Putnam Publishing company in Chicago.
The bride will be at home at 50 East Cedar St., Evanston, after May 1.
