

Legion, Aux Plan County Convention

Prize for 'Loudest' Sport Shirt

ATKINSON—The annual Holt county convention of the American Legion and auxiliary will be held at the American Legion hall in Atkinson on Sunday, July 13.

Registration will start at 2 p.m., and the convention will get underway at 3 p.m. Department Commander Stan Huffman of Ewing will be present for the main address. Past District Commander Edward German of Pierce will speak on "The Legion's Duty in the Community." District Commander Charles E. Chace of Atkinson, District Vice-Commander Neal Hasselbalch of St. Edward, District Service Officer Al Sommer of Norfolk and District Adjutant Lawrence Hamik of Stuart will all be present.

The Legion sessions will be presided over by County Commander George Wettlaufer of Page. Auxiliary sessions will be in charge of the county president, Mrs. Milo Landreth of Page.

The Atkinson auxiliary will serve a covered dish supper following the convention sessions.

and the Atkinson post is planning special entertainment in the club rooms for the remainder of the evening.

Posts and units at Stuart, O'Neill, Atkinson, Page, Chambers and Ewing form the Holt county group.

All meetings will be open to the public.

The Atkinson post will award a special prize to the man wearing the "loudest" sport shirt and to the auxiliary member wearing the "most glamorous" sun dress.

MARKET REPORT "The Old Reliable"

Tuesday, July 10th
AUCTION
CATTLE RECEIPTS: 432 head. Badly needed moisture which generally covered this area well the past week tended to keep receipts low and pushed prices of stockers and feeders up 50 to 75 cents per hundred weight higher. The best buyer interest today together with a few packages of choice cattle were responsible for the higher prices. Yearling steers generally from $17.00 to $18.25 with choice kinds eligible up to $19.00 cwt., plainer kinds from $16.00 to $17.00; just good kinds $12.50 to $13.75 cwt.

Butcher cows were plentiful but most sales reflected losses of 25c cwt. Best beef cows $10.50 to $12.00. Good cow $9.50 to $10.25; canners and low cutters $9.00 to $9.25; beef bulls were fully steady with all bulls offered selling from $13.00 to $14.00 cwt.

NEXT AUCTION TUESDAY, JULY 17th. Demand for these cattle has improved. It's not too early to list your cattle now for near future sales. Phone 5141 where they sell Cattle Exclusively and book yours.
