WHAT MAKES AMERICA GREAT?

America has prospered because Americans know how to work together.

Our forefathers learned that what one man could not do alone, could be accomplished when many people voluntarily invested their money in a business or industry. This was the beginning of Free Enterprise!

Such a group pioneered the introduction of Natural Gas service into the rural areas of Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado. As a result, many of these States' citizens today enjoy the almost limitless benefits of this truly miracle fuel. This would not have been true unless other citizens had been willing to demonstrate their faith in the Great Plains area by backing it up with their hard-earned savings.

Free men, investing in a free country, is one of the things that makes America great!
