

Cards Lose in Class C Playoff

field try as the Cardinals jumped to a 10-2 lead in the first period. But the tide began to turn when the zealous Cards committed a host of first-half fouls and the Boone countys laid 'em in, 13 out of 15 tries, during those first two stanzas.

Cedar led, 23-15, at the end of the first and Froelich's sharp eye kept the Scarlet in the game. The Cards were without the services of their high-scoring ace, Jim Becker, who came from a hospital bed to ride the bench. Gary Holly was assessed three first period fouls and Froelich was tagged for two. This situation put the Cards on thin ice.

Holly Draws Fourth

With 1 1/2 minutes gone in the second, Holly acquired his fourth personal. The Scarlet were simply too anxious when confronted with Cedar's deliberate floor game, which was designed to setup Mr. Homan, whose first-half marksmanship rivaled the professionals. Homan connected on three consecutive long shots before the halftime buzzer. Cedar led, 38-29, at intermission.

Bill Craig took charge of Mr. Homan up front during the second half, and held down the hotshot. With Cedar slowed, the game was sluggish for a spell. The count ran 40-29, 43-29, 45-31, 45-34, 47-36, 47-38, 51-40 at the end of the frame.

Jim Froelich, St. Mary's guard, connected on four out of four field tries in the opening minutes of the St. Mary's-Cedar Rapids playoff game last Thursday at Ainsworth. He helped put his mates ahead 10-2, but Cedar's sharpshooting, which included uncanny accuracy at the freethrow line, won it for the Tigers, 56-55, in a hair-raising finish.—The Frontier Photo.

frantic fourth for Coach Don Templemeyer's crew with a layup. Jim McGinn hit, making at 51-44. Tomlinson and Homan matched buckets, 53-45.

The Cards, hurrying the ball and the opponents, too, tied it up, 55-55, on Tom Schneider's dribble the length of the floor for a lay-in. A few moments earlier he had muffed a similar feat and Tomlinson had miserable luck on three successive rebound tries.

Tomlinson Gets 17

Schneider got his fifth foul was chased. Tomlinson had two freethrow tries with the score knotted, but couldn't convert. Homan was fouled with five seconds left, cashed his first and missed the second but the game was over.

Tomlinson racked up 17 points; Froelich and Schneider 12 each; Craig and McGinn, seven each.

St. Mary's had 23 fieldgoals compared to 15 for Cedar, but the Gold's incredible accuracy at the freethrow line did the job. Next night—against Arnold—the Cedar kids were equally apt on gratis tosses.

Rural School Mergers Topic

EMMET—The South Side club met with Mrs. Walter Puckett of Atkinson Tuesday, March 5, for a birthday party honoring the state and all the club members.

A covered dish luncheon was held at noon followed by the regular meeting. There was a Red Cross sale, singing of happy birthday, and afternoon coffee at which birthday cake was served. $10 was given to the Red Cross.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Leon Beckwith at which rural school consolidation will be discussed led by Mrs. Paul Newton.

Mrs. Ada Cox Gets 40 Cards, Letters

CHAMBERS—Mrs. Ada Cox was completely surprised when nearly 40 cards arrived in her mail Friday, March 8—her 92nd birthday anniversary.

Besides those from friends and neighbors at Chambers, she received cards from Lincoln, O'Neill, Oakdale, Tilden and Long Pine as well as from her daughter at Salt Lake City, Utah and her granddaughter at Ames, Ia.

Another granddaughter, Shirley DeHart, presented her with a corsage.

Mrs. Cox was interviewed by a staff reporter from The Frontier earlier in the week. This, too, came as a surprise.
