18 ELECTRIC candles

It was 18 years ago that a new concept of electric power distribution came to Nebraska. On August, 5, 1939, Consumers was born.

Consumers, like all infants, didn't take up much space in the world at first. Today, however, Consumers' operations are statewide. Through an integrated network, Consumer facilities now extend into 71 of Nebraska's 93 counties, providing dependable, low-cost electric service for more than 350,000 people in 356 communities and on more than 8,000 farms.

And who owns Consumers? Why, you do. Consumers is a public institution—a self-supporting, non-profit organization owned by the people it serves in Nebraska.

To you, we pledge our continuing efforts to maintain the highest quality electric service at the lowest possible rates so that you may LIVE BETTER... ELECTRICALLY today and tomorrow.
