Selected for Trip to Belgium in '59

Alice Young of O'Neill has been selected for international farm youth exchange to go to Belgium in 1959.

Word was received at the county agent's office on Wednesday. Alice is one of a few youths selected in the United States to represent rural youth of United States in the rural areas of foreign countries. She has been active in 4-H club work in Holt county. She attended two years at the University of Nebraska, taught rural schools and is now teaching in the Norfolk city schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young.

Miss Joyce Carlson of Hitchcock county gave Holt county students and rural youth a report of international farm youth exchange to India. She spoke and showed pictures of her 4½ months in India to students of O'Neill high, Atkinson high, and St. Joseph's hall of Atkinson on Tuesday and to adults and rural youth Tuesday evening at the courthouse annex. She was sponsored by Holt county rural youth organization.

Many questions were asked of her about life in India and how she got along in a land so different from ours. Joyce was the first girl to get to go to India under the IFYE program. John Orr, state assistant rural youth leader, accompanied her in the country and explained the IFYE program to the students. The extension agents made arrangements with the schools.
